as "un-American."

Warden John W. Snook, of the federal penitentiary, Tuesday night confirmed reports that he had sent a letter to Washington threatening to resign unless the department of justice agents under Assistant Attorney General Mabel Walker Willebrandt discontinued the "espionage" system inaugurated by Mrs. Willebrandt under Attorney General John G. Sargent and resumed last week when William D. Mitchell took over the attorney generalship under President Hoover.

Warden Snook denied that his resignation already had been sent to Washington. It was said a letter had been sent to Attorney General Mitchell in which the warden positively stated that if the "spy" system of Mrs. Willebrandt was to be continued "there was no place in the scheme of things for him."

The prison warden, who has long been the storm center of a policy fight in the department of justice and the target of Mrs. Willebrandt's fire, refused to give out the text of his letter to Attorney General Mitchell, saying that he believed it should be made public in Washington or after Mr. Mitchell had seen fit to reply.

Meanwhile in Washington the fight was being aired by congressmen and senators. Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, the home state of Warden Snook, is leading the fight in his behalf and at the senator's office it was said that he had received a series of reports from private sources in Atlanta and today would interview Attorney General Mitchell and demand that Warden Snook either be made to face charges or that tampering with

DAWE RUMORED
NEXT AMBASSADOR TO GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—Charles Gates Dawes, who retired from the vice presidency on March 4, is reported in well informed circles here to be under consideration as the next ambassador to the United States to Great Britain.
The rumor lacks official confirmation with President Hoover stating that he will make no appointments in the diplomatic corps pending the arrival here late this month of his new secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson. The president, however, is known to have a very high regard for the ability of the Chicago banker and soldier, dating from their associations in France during the war.

Forty Families in Georgia Town Isolated by High Waters Call on Red Cross for Relief.

Savannah, Ga., March 12.—(AP)—Calls for relief from Savannah, Ga., reached the Savannah chapter of the Red Cross today, and Mrs. Mary C. Reeves, assistant to Miss Dorothy Blake, executive secretary here, left to ascertain conditions there. By telephone tonight Mrs. Reeves reported that the water was knee-deep in the town around the postoffice, and that 45 families are isolated in their homes. The houses are built high to avoid flood conditions, and the water has not risen enough to enter the houses, so at present there is no injury to property.

Of the 45 isolated families, all turn-of-mind mill workers, 25 families are on the regular pay roll of the mills and will be cared for. This means that the other 40 families are without work or means of support, and will have to be taken care of by the Red Cross until the mills can resume operations. Dr. W. J. Long is head of the Townsend committee. Food will be shipped to Townsend from Savannah tonight by train. Mrs. Reeves will return tomorrow with a list of all persons needing relief. Distribution will be by rowboat at Townsend.

GEORGIA RIVERS
NEARING NORMAL
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
For the first time in two weeks or more, the Ocmulgee, Ocmulgee, Flint and Chattahoochee rivers were approaching normal levels Tuesday.

The Chattahoochee was almost back to its usual stage, and the Flint, which points the Chattahoochee to form the Apalachicola, was subsiding fast, although still out of its banks in isolated lowlands.
At Newton, where 400 residents fled before the flood waters to the neighboring village of Camilla, what was described as one of the two worst floods in many years was subsiding, leaving silt-covered streets and muddy floors and walls in many residences. The population was ready for the return home, although D. P. Powers, editor of the Baker County News, estimated it would be a week before the town was entirely habitable again.

The state board of health plans wholesale inoculation against typhoid fever in the community.
The flood crests of the Ocmulgee and Ocmulgee rivers in the eastern section of the state, were pouring into the Atlantic via the Altamaha, which rose somewhat Monday night in the lowlands near Brunswick.

FLINT RIVER
AT CREST.
Rainbridge, Ga., March 12.—(Special)—Flint river at West Bainbridge has about reached its crest, having moved only a point since Monday's reading of 35.3. Today it is 35.4, with everything quiet in the little mill town.
While back waters are still against several of the homes and a few families evacuated, returning home will be resumed, it is thought now, within a few days. Damage has been due mainly to loss of time from work since factories and sawmills have been closed to the laborers. Homes are intact and with little cost can be freshened for habitation again.

General Olachea's description of his men might be interpreted as forming part of carefully laid federal plans by which he was to pretend sympathy with the rebels and to come out under the flag of the states of the south.
Naco is in the heart of rebel territory. It was said that Olachea's coup had been carefully planned. The general himself explained that although he had professed sympathy for the rebels he always had been loyal to the government.

Chief significance of his defection is psychological rather than military. It strikes the revolutionary morale a solid blow in the back. From a military point of view, Olachea's position is somewhat precarious. The general rebelled against federal troops and planes in a fight begun at Agua Prieta. His force can be useful only in an advance on Nogales, which he was reported to be planning. Olachea's support from General Armenta, operating south of Nogales and hitherto considered a rebel, troops were concentrating more and more heavily at their Torreon headquarters, said dispatches from a correspondent of the Associated Press who accompanied rebel troop trains south to Torreon from Juarez.

The federalists seem everywhere to be speeding up their campaign, as though they planned to strike a concerted blow on other fronts, while a

REBELS SURROUNDED
AT CITY OF SALTILLO.

Mexico City, March 12.—(AP)—The government late tonight received a report that the rebels were attempting to evacuate the city of Saltillo, Coahuila. Federal troops claimed that the rebels had all avenues of escape blocked and planned a concerted attack at daybreak.
General General Juan A. Almazan, reinforced strongly, was reported ready to attack Saltillo. While his column advances from Monterrey, another federal column under General Eugenio Ortiz will attack from the direction of Paredon, where it has been for some days. All roads where the rebels could escape from the city were reported to have been cut or blocked and their defeat seemed certain. Various federal forces have effected an encircling movement around the city.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Mexican rebels have been taken in the rear by the sudden, dramatic defeat of General Agustino Olachea and his 1,500 Yaqui and Maya Indian troops at Naco, Sonora, south of Bisbee, Ariz.
General Olachea, who had been considered a rebel, announced Tuesday that he would march against the rebel stronghold of Nogales, Sonora, after having dispatched 400 of his men to take Agua Prieta 30 miles farther east. Five hundred rebels were said to be advancing against Olachea's expedition to Agua Prieta.
This unexpected blow to the rebel cause outweighed in dramatic effect the northward march of the main federal army under General Calles which was aimed at advancing in its advance against the rebel headquarters in central Mexico.

General Olachea's description of his men might be interpreted as forming part of carefully laid federal plans by which he was to pretend sympathy with the rebels and to come out under the flag of the states of the south.

HOOPER APPOINTS
NEW ORLEANS MAN
TO LITTLE CABINET

E. L. Jahneke Named Assistant Navy Head—Is
First Indication of Southern Recognition.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, March 12.—President Hoover's own plans to compensate the south for the support given him in the presidential election were revealed at the white house today. He announced his selection of two southerners of prominence for posts of conspicuous importance in the government during his administration.

Ernest Lee Jahneke, of New Orleans, was chosen by him to be assistant secretary of the navy and Patrick J. Hurley, of Tulsa, Okla., to be assistant secretary of war. Jahneke, a business man who is in shipping enterprise on a large scale, displaces Charles Burton Robbins, of Iowa, who desired to retire from his under-cabinet post. Hurley, who displaces Theodore Douglas Robinson, of New York, had a valiant war record. His selection, however, is distinctly political because he was one of the pre-convention managers of the Hoover campaign, was one of the most capable leaders of campaign funds and had lent his energies to converting the solid south away from Governor Smith.

Hoover's decisions caused a wave of speculation to course through political Washington, immediately. The general and final interpretation was that he had chosen the southerners in recognition of the vast support which came to him in the campaign. It was also assumed that his selections marked a new cleavage in republican politics in the south because the new men, the under-secretaries, represented elements which supported him personally rather than the old line republican political elements.

The political wisecracks were endeavoring to determine for their own satisfaction tonight whether Hoover's decisions will prove finally satisfactory to Colonel Horace Mann, who resigned his southern engagement of the republican party, and the large group represented by him.

Thoroughly Disgusted.

That Colonel Mann is disgusted beyond amelioration and will refuse to align himself with the active management of the republican party was the consensus of opinion among those who know him best. They believe that Mann's break with the G. O. P. is beyond repair. Mann represented a serious and powerful element of the southern republicans who insisted that the time had come for the south to be recognized not by any under or minor secretarships but by a place in Mr. Hoover's own cabinet.

Mann was convinced that the 1928 victory of Hoover had made North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Oklahoma favorable ground for the republican party with reasonable prospects of success in future campaigns. He had expected that the new administration would certify that persons who held bright prospects also if the republicans there were carefully nurtured under straight lily-white management.

Incidental to the general southern situation, Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, republican chairman of the patronage investigation committee, expressed tonight his disappointment that President Hoover could deal effectively with the southern patronage problem if he would issue an executive order making postoffice appointments the property of the federal government. "If the president would issue an order providing for the appointment of the person who passed the highest examination, on the basis of merit, and not on the basis of political connection, sales of offices would be impossible," said Senator Brookhart today.

Must Certify Three.

"At present," said Senator Brookhart, "the civil service commission is required to certify three persons who have made the best showing in the examinations for postal service positions. If the appointment depended entirely on the expression of the best qualified person, it would be impossible for any politician to obtain money for recommending or using influence to bring about the appointment of this or that person."

Senator Brookhart said he realized that such an executive order would apply all over the country as well as in the states of the south, but he added that he was entirely satisfied to him and he believed it would do other members of congress, who now must give attention to the selection of their appointees, federal offices. "I hope," he added, "that the president will give some consideration to the views of so-called 'Hoover democrats' in making his appointments to federal offices."

"However, if the plan of placing these appointments under civil service is carried out, the best qualified persons will obtain the offices, and I do not doubt that a lot of them would be Hoover democrats."

BOARD MEMBERS
HIT AT CRITICS OF SCHOOL SYSTEM

Plan House Organ for Purpose of Putting All
Facts and Goals Before
Public.

Scathingly excoriating critics of the Atlanta public school system as either "misinformed, insincere or seeking personal gain in attacking the department," members of the Atlanta board of education took official cognizance of the system in a heated verbal volley fired at the regular March meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The discussion was precipitated when Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, commented on press reports of attacks aimed at the lack of efficiency of the Atlanta schools and ended when half a dozen members of the board took the floor, flaying opponents of the present plan and critics of alleged extravagance.

In order to "properly inform the patrons of the system of the real facts regarding it," George W. Powell, president of the board, offered a resolution providing for appointment of a committee of three members to investigate the "feasibility of establishment of a house organ to be known as 'Our Schools'."

John T. Hancock, commissioner from the eighth ward and chairman of the current expenditures committee of the board, was named chairman, and W. W. Gibson, commissioner from the third, and Mr. Powell were selected to serve on the committee.

Schools Bear Onus.

"You probably have seen press reports of some persons expressing their dissatisfaction with the efficiency of the Atlanta schools," Mr. Sutton said. "A great deal has been said regarding a special school tax and several other plans. I am in a position that when the composite committee completes its report and makes a recommendation, that it will be our duty, if for the trustees, with one week to help carry out the plan as agreed upon."

"The question of financing is not a school matter alone, but is one which affects every department of the city government. It is an unfortunate situation that the entire burden of the financial straits of the city has been placed upon the school department alone."

"This attitude of passing the entire blame for the city's financial problem entirely to the schools is unfortunate and unjust and many statements which are erroneous and misleading have been made. Whether these are made through lack of information, from misinformation or what not, I can not say. We should work out some plan of finances and make it dry matter, final and corrective of the ills of the present system."

"Some persons have criticized the department because we have removed desks in lower grades and substituted tables and chairs in their stead. We have heard the desks were junked. This is wrong, like many other criticisms aimed at the system. The tables and chairs are economical, costing only about two-thirds as much as desks would for the same number of children. Desks taken out will be used in other parts of the school building. The same thing is true of other attacks on alleged extravagances."

Comparisons between the city and county systems stir up trouble and should be avoided unless all the facts are known.
What solution has been found to keep the schools operating for the remainder of the year? You know we are over the budget figures," James W. Maddox, commissioner from the fifth ward, said.

Sutton: "Atlanta schools are operating on a budget which anticipates about $85,000 over the funds available at this time."
Powell: "We are going to operate within our budget, however, regardless of how much we have to cut out."
Maddox: "That means cutting the schools' throats."

Sutton: "Yes. Salaries will have to be cut unless we can get more money. I believe the plan which has been advanced is to begin with the superintendent and go on through the entire system to the janitors and figure out the percentage of cuts necessary to bring us within our appropriations."
Maddox: "It seems to me that the board of education isn't anything more. We do not get any salaries for our services. All we get is unjust and unfounded criticism."

Raps Civic Clubs.

Roy D. Warren, commissioner from the tenth ward: "It is my personal belief that 50 per cent of the people who curse out the board at civic club meetings (referring to the criticism against the board Monday night at a joint meeting of the Capitol View Civic League and the Sylvan Hills Improvement League) were expected to receive favorable action."

Man Who Claimed Bandits
Bound Him To Tree
Admits Story Was False,
Officers Assert.

Employment of two negroes to ride him far out on Chattahoochee avenue and bind him to a tree, where he was held for six hours in a cold, dripping rain was confessed Tuesday night, according to county police, by Clyde Durham, of Frances place, salesman for the Treat-Rite, Inc., who one week ago told officers that negroes robbed him of $1,000 of his company's merchandise and tied him to the tree.

County Policemen Davis, Gates, Vinson, Dixon and Wilson, working for a week on the reported "holdup" Tuesday night brought Durham to the police station, where he was charged with the robbery. Durham refused to talk. Durham is being held under $2,000 bond on burglary charges, while Smith is under similar bond for receiving and possessing stolen goods.

Officers said that Durham told them that he carried the merchandise to the Speedway Inn, where Smith stored it and that then he went back downtown, and induced two negroes to meet on Decatur street, to drive him out on Chattahoochee avenue and tie him to the tree, paying them $15. This was about midnight, he said, and a railroad man cut him down, wet and shivering, about 6 o'clock the next morning.

"LIFE FOR PINT"
MICHIGAN LAW
APPEARS LOST

Lansing, Mich., March 12.—(AP)—"Life for a pint" appears doomed in Michigan through the action of the state senate last night in voting 22 to 9 to refer the Cuthbertson bill, designed to keep the bootlegger within the fourth offender life sentence provisions of the crime code, to the state affairs committee, where it is expected to die a lingering death. Proponents of the measure had attempted to have the bill referred to the prohibition committee, where it was expected to receive favorable action.

CAROLINA PASSES
ROAD BONDS BILL

Measure Calls for Issuance of $65,000,000 for Hard Surface Highways;
Ends Long Fight.

Columbia, S. C., March 12.—(AP)—The South Carolina senate tonight adopted the free conference report on the $65,000,000 state highway bond issue by a vote of 29 to 8. As the house adopted the report today the bill goes to Governor Richards for approval.

Charges that members of the general assembly had been offered bribes to vote for the highway bond bill and that members were interested in writing surety bonds for the highway department were hurled in the chamber today as the house of representatives adopted a free conference report on the bill. The vote was 60 to 41.

The free conference report returned on the senate bill provides for the issuance of $65,000,000 in bonds for the completion of the state highway system within four years. The entire state gasoline tax of five cents per gallon and all the motor vehicle license fees would be pledged toward the retirement of the bonds, and the amount of bonds issuable in any one year would be limited to $20,000,000. Should the state-wide bond issue without a popular referendum be held unconstitutional, the bond issue could be financed by an alternate provision dividing the state into two highway districts, each including approximately half of the counties, with a total bond issue of $35,000,000 allowed to each.

Proponents of the bond bill in the house today headed off a proposal to extend the privileges of addressing the house to United States Senator Cole L. Blease, who was waiting in the lobby. A motion adopted by the house on suggestion of a bond bill proposition set the time for voting on the free conference report and allowed an intervening time to argument against the bond issue but only argument from the floor. Later when a bond bill opponent asked to have the privilege of speaking extended to Senator Blease the author of the original motion raised his motion as a point of order which was sustained.

Senator Blease during the past few weeks had addressed a number of communications against the bond bill to members of the general assembly.

LEADING ATLANTAN

MILLIONS FOUNDED

End Comes So Suddenly
Only One Daughter Is Able To Reach Bedside
Before His Passing.

FUNERAL SERVICES
SET FOR THURSDAY

Life of Financier Marked by Generous Gifts to Emory, Wesley Memorial and to Church.

Death came peacefully to Asa Griggs Candler, multimillionaire financier, civic leader, philanthropist and founder of the Coca-Cola company at 4:07 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Wesley Memorial hospital which his millions founded. He was 78 years old.

With his death Atlanta lost its wealthiest and until his final illness its leading citizen, a man whose multitudinous affairs probably did more to build up the city than any other resident.

Though the veteran capitalist had been ill for nearly three years and it was known that he would never recover the end was so unexpected that only one daughter was able to reach his bedside before the end came. His other children had been hurriedly summoned but only Mrs. Henry C. Heinz arrived at the hospital in time to see her father breathe his last. Other members of the family arrived a few minutes after his death.

Death Comes as Shock.

The news of Mr. Candler's death came as a shock to the entire city, although everyone knew that he was seriously ill only a few of his close friends had been informed that he was sinking to his end. A former mayor he was perhaps, the most widely known citizen Atlanta ever had. Rich and poor, proud and humble all knew of Mr. Candler's great things in life and joined together in mourning his passing.

A few minutes after his death the following notice, written in his own handwriting weeks ago by Mr. Candler, with space left to fill in the time of his passing and the hour of the funeral was issued to show the way the aged financier wanted the daily press to chronicle his end:
"Died on March 12, 1929, at Wesley Memorial hospital, Asa G. Candler. Funeral obsequies will be observed at his late residence, 1428 Ponce de Leon avenue at 11 o'clock on Thursday, March 14, 1929. Interment will be at West View. Private, H. M. Patterson & Son in charge."

Funeral Services.

As announced in this statement by members of his family, the funeral will be at 11 o'clock Thursday, with the Rev. Franklin S. Parker officiating. Burial will be in West View.

In addition to Mrs. Heinz, Mr. Candler is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary L. Regan Candler, and four sons, Charles Howard, Asa

DOCTORS ARE RELEASED FROM MURDER CHARGE

Hearing in Death of 12-Year-Old Tennessee Boy Ends Parents' Charges.

Elizabethton, Tenn., March 12.—(AP) Charges of murder brought against two prominent local physicians for the death of a 12-year-old boy on whom they performed an operation in the kitchen of his hill farm home, today were dismissed at a preliminary hearing in magistrate's court.

The physicians, Dr. W. H. Longmire and Dr. Murrell Pinson, were arrested Saturday on a warrant sworn out by Henry Grindstaff, charging that the death of his son, Robert, on whom the surgeons had operated for appendicitis, was due to criminal neglect.

Magistrate R. T. Johnson, Sr., today after hearing the state's case in which the operation was described by the boy's neighbors who held the lights in the kitchen of the Grindstaff home, in the early morning hours of Sunday, March 3, declared "the state has failed to make a case and I dismiss the charges." The defense attorneys made no argument.

Grindstaff and a dozen of his neighbors from the hills took the stand to describe the boy's illness and the operation which preceded his death by six hours.

The father was the first witness and told of his son being ill for a week before he summoned Dr. Pinson, when the boy became nauseated. The physician, after making an examination, Grindstaff said, told him he needed aid and left in his car, returning early the next morning with Dr. Longmire and converting the kitchen of his home into an emergency operating room, operated on his son. Grindstaff said the surgeons placed the boy on the kitchen table and with neighbors taking turns at holding a single kerosene lamp and a flashlight. After the operation, Grindstaff said the surgeons brought his son into the bedroom "then they put him in bed and propped him up and left. I couldn't do anything. I just sat there and watched him die."

Humane Education To Be Discussed At Meet Tonight

Talks on humane education, vivisection, fur fabrics, steel trap and vegetarianism will feature the animal welfare mass meeting to be held at 8 o'clock tonight in Ampico hall, 193 Peachtree street.

Speakers will include Mrs. Katherine Weathersbee, field worker for the American Humane Education society; Mrs. Julia Woods Wagner and George T. Bush, president and vice president, respectively, of the Atlanta Anti-Vivisection society; Miss Annette Applewhite, John Nimick and Adolphe Michel.

RATE CHANGE ASKED

Milledgeville Citizens To Appear Here Next Month.

Milledgeville will send a delegation of business men to Atlanta April 8 to appear before the state public service commission and ask for a revision of commercial lighting rates in that city which is served by the Georgia Power company, according to a notice received at the office of the commission Tuesday. The commission recently issued an order requiring the Georgia Power company to show cause why it should not revise its commercial lighting rates and retail power rates in 161 cities it serves, including Milledgeville.

MISS RICH TO SPEAK TO BUSINESS WOMEN

Address Will Be Feature of Observance of National Week.

Miss Ruth Rich, field secretary of the National Business and Professional Women's club, will speak tonight at the meeting of the local club at the Wineoff hotel. Miss Rich is touring the southern states in connection with her work and arranged her itinerary so as to be with the Atlanta club during its observance of national business women's week, March 10-16. Miss Rich is a former Jacksonville newspaper woman who went to New York in 1923 to become editor of the Independent Woman magazine of the national federation. She resigned that position to become better films secretary of the National Board of Review, but later returned to the federation work in the capacity of field organizer.

MISS RUTH RICH.

One of the most noted signs of changing times is the change in the attitude toward the woman who works, according to Miss Rich. "In connection with my work, I often inquire of women what their girls are going to do after school. In almost every instance the mother names some business or profession which her daughter intends to pursue."

"I was born in the south, where the attitude toward women in business has been much more conservative than in the north, and it is extremely interesting to note how even these southern mothers are viewing their daughters' success with pride."

In order that business women of the city may have the privilege of hearing Miss Rich, and that they may become better acquainted with the observance of national business women's week, the Atlanta club has designated tonight as "Guest Night," and will have in attendance besides members, other outstanding business women.

ATLANTA PIANIST WILL PLAY TODAY FOR MASONIC CLUB

Mrs. Margie Hale, pianist, will feature a musical program to be presented for members of the Atlanta Masonic club at the weekly luncheon meeting today at the Wineoff hotel. J. Turner Fitten is in charge of the program, which will begin at 12:30 o'clock.

LOCAL RESTAURANT BODY WILL MEET THIS AFTERNOON

F. A. Talmadge, special representative of the National Restaurant association, will be a guest and speaker of the Atlanta Restaurant association at a meeting at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the convention bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

LEGION AUXILIARY UNIT WILL MEET THIS AFTERNOON

The monthly meeting of Atlanta unit No. 1 of the American Legion auxiliary will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Basil Stockbridge, at 58 Tenth street, Northeast.

All members of the auxiliary are urged to attend this meeting, as a number of important matters pertaining to the work for the coming year will be discussed.

Regret Caused By Recent Death Of Col. Williams

Numerous friends in Atlanta have learned with regret of the death of Colonel Ezekiel James Williams, which occurred in Washington March 7.

Colonel Williams, who had been called one of the ablest officers in the United States army, was born near Tifton, Ga., and as a young man gained early recognition in railroad work. He entered the army in 1898 as a second lieutenant and his career was marked by remarkable efficiency in the various posts he held.

His promotion was steady as evidenced by the fact that he was in line for the rank of brigadier general at the time of his death. Among his more important assignments were as a member of the war department general staff, chief of staff of the thirty-sixth division during the world war, and executive head of the militia bureau in Washington from 1922 to 1926. For more than two years, ending in September, 1925, he was stationed in Atlanta, commanding the thirtieth division of the national guard, comprised of the troops of Georgia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina.

As a culmination of this assignment, the division, 8,000 strong, was under his command at Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., last summer, and his splendid performance as chief officer attracted nationwide attention as it was the first composite camp of a division since the world war which was made up of troops from more than one state.

The camp was visited by leading army officials, among them the secretary of war, the chief of staff, assistant chief of staff and the chief of the militia bureau, all of whom were said to have been impressed with the showing of the command.

At the time of his death Colonel Williams held station at Fort Screven, Ga., where he commanded the Eighth infantry.

TASTY RECIPES FEATURE SALMON

The following interesting recipes will interest housewives:

Novelty Stuffed Peppers.

Mix with mayonnaise 1 can salmon, 1 1/2 cups chopped cabbage, 1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles, 1 cup chopped peanuts, dash of cayenne, salt to taste. Serve in small green pepper cups, parboiled. Garnish with pimiento. Will serve 10 people.

Salmon Sandwiches.

Grind up 5 carrots and 1 1/2 cup English or black walnuts. Mix with 1 1/2 can salmon and 6 tablespoons boiled dressing. Spread on thin slices of bread cut in fancy shapes. Makes 20 sandwiches.

Stuffed Baked Salmon.

One-pound can salmon, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 cup hot mashed potato, 1 teaspoon sage, 1 cup finely chopped fat salt pork, 1 chopped onion, 1 1/2 cup chopped celery. Mix all ingredients except salmon and moisten with liquor from the salmon. Arrange one-half the salmon on the bottom of a baking dish; cover with the stuffing, then add remainder of the salmon. Dot with bits of butter and bake. Serve with rich white sauce.

DAIRYMEN WILLING TO AID IN FIGHT ON SHORTENINGS

Attorney General George M. Naper announced Tuesday that the American Dairy association has offered to aid the state of Georgia in a legal battle to be fought in this state to prevent the sale of vegetable shortenings packed, cut and colored like butter. It is probable that the offer will be accepted.

Manufacturers of the shortenings recently obtained a temporary injunction in the United States court of Augusta restraining the state department of agriculture from enforcing its ban on the sale of the shortenings as branded and packed.

$25,000 DAMAGES SOUGHT BY WOMAN AGAINST POWER CO.

A suit for $25,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received when she was tripped by a piece of metal projecting between car seats was filed Tuesday in city court of Atlanta by Mrs. Minda Faith against the Georgia Power company. Mrs. Faith alleges that the seat was defective and caused her to be injured. The petition was filed by Thomas H. Goodwin and Harwell, Fairman and Barrett.

W.E. Woodward, Noted Author, Visits City; WILL IRWIN SPEAKS AT SPELMAN COLLEGE

Mrs. W. E. Woodward, Mr. Woodward and Mrs. Julian Harris, who came to Atlanta from Columbus to greet the Woodwards. Mrs. Harris and the two visitors have been friends for years.

Meets Old Friends of Many Years Ago—Began as Proofreader, Now Famous as Writer.

An old but never-to-be-forgotten love brought W. E. Woodward, an ex-employee who went to the big city and made good to such an extent that he now enjoys world favor, back to The Constitution Tuesday. Mr. Woodward never forgot his days on The Constitution nor did The Constitution and its "old boys" forget him. Only a few of those who were here 20 years ago remain but they had their little get-together and made Mr. Woodward's memory float pleasantly back to 1896, when he was a proofreader on the paper, spending part of his time as his successors do now, cussing dumb reporters for the "horrible" copy they turn out for the edification and consumption of "their public." Mrs. Harris Greeted Friends. Another friend of the Woodwards greeted them when they arrived in Atlanta, Mrs. Julian Harris, coming from Columbus to spend the day with them here. Mrs. Harris is well known for her ability as a writer. The wife of Julian Harris, editor of The Columbus Enquirer-Sun, she acts as assistant editor. Her book, "The Life of Joel Chandler Harris," her father-

Noted Author Tells of Humorous Incidents on Hoover's Trip.

Humorous incidents connected with the recent trip of President Hoover to South America were recounted Tuesday afternoon by Will Irwin, noted newspaper and magazine writer, who accompanied the chief executive on his tour, in an address to students at Spelman college.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, who arrived here from New Orleans shortly after noon Tuesday, were guests at a dinner party Tuesday night at the home of S. Russell Bridges. They will leave at 8 o'clock this morning for Washington, D. C.

Mr. Irwin is one of the most popular feature writers of the day, with articles appearing frequently in the largest magazines of the country. Mrs. Irwin is Inez Haynes Irwin, herself a writer of note, having authored a series of "Phoebe and Ernest" short stories in studies of adolescent youth.

Mr. Irwin was selected recently to accompany the president on his pre-inaugural tour of South America and he wrote many interesting accounts of the chief executive's trip for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.

He has a brother, Wallace Irwin, a poet, novelist and humorist, who is almost as famous as his older brother. Will, one of the most delightful spirits of camaraderie recorded in American literature has existed between the two brothers since birth, as shown in a magazine article by Wallace Irwin in which he said:

"William Henry Harrison Irwin, party of the first part, to be hereafter in this document referred to as Bill, was born a long time ago. Frankly I cannot recall the day because I arrived two years later and in no proper state of mind to take his license number. It is recorded in the Irwin annals that Bill came to my cradle, himself a very minor infant, carrying a hammer with which to knock out my brains and thus end the dispute in its early stage."

Tarkington To Recover.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 12.—(United News.)—Booth Tarkington, famous Hoosier author, will recover his normal eyesight, according to information received here by his sister, Mrs. Ovid Butler Tarkington, from the Wilmer eye institute, of Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore. Tarkington recently underwent an operation after he had lost the sight of his right eye and his left eye had begun to weaken.

in-law, received the highest praise from literary critics.

Those who were reporters on The Constitution in the days of Mr. Woodward, and many of them later became famous, probably cussed the proofreader as much as he cussed their copy. But he is shown them and all the world that as a man of letters there are few who surpass him. He is the author of a number of popular works, including "George Washington," "Meet General Grant" and "Lottery," which brought much fame, some criticism and no little gold.

Like many other proofreaders Mr. Woodward tired of reporters' copy and in 1898 he sought to become a reporter himself in order to show some of the then boys first-hand that they didn't know what it was all about. Robert Adamson, who later became fire commissioner and a big political figure in New York, was city editor of The Constitution. Mr. Woodward made known his desire to quit the proofreading game and take up reporting. Mr. Adamson was quite willing but printers and proofreaders then, as now, were the aristocrats of the shop, and Mr. Adamson couldn't pay the princely $27 a week that would equal the proofreader's salary.

Atlanta Loses to New York. So The Constitution lost and so did Atlanta, but as they say in the provinces, New York's gain was Atlanta's loss.

Upon his arrival in New York, he immediately sought out Remsen Crawford, another Constitution man, who made good, and sought to get on the New York Times through Crawford's assistance. He didn't. He was nearly broke and there wasn't a job in sight. The kindly Crawford took him over to a window overlooking New York's city park and pointing to the row upon row of unemployed said:

"Nine out of ten of those loafers over there are jobless newspaper reporters. There is entirely too much talent for the number of newspapers."

It wasn't long, however, before Mr. Woodward got a break and landed a job on the World of the Politicians. Like other newcomers in New York, however, he was given little opportunity to write and after a few months gave up in disgust and went into the business field.

He got one job after another, each time becoming more successful until finally he became vice president of the Industrial Finance corporation, a tower in the field of big business.

Writes First Novel.

The yen for writing lay dormant in his financial and industrial mind and did not assert itself until after he had retired from business at the age of 45. It was while crossing the Atlantic on a trip to Europe that he gave vent to the urge and penned "Buck," his first novel. Harper's bought it and when Harper's buys anything in the literary line it's pretty good, so Mr. Woodward must have been pretty good. "Lottery," a tale of doing up the stock exchange, followed. The author considers this his best work. "Broad and Circuses" came next and then "George Washington" and "Meet General Grant." The writer then was known the world over. All of his work was awaited with great eagerness and his books found a ready market. He now is hard at work on a play, "Half Done," a story of life as it is today in New York. He expects to complete it soon.

Mr. Woodward is returning to New York from a vacation in Mexico City. He stopped in Atlanta solely to look about his old stamping ground. The Constitution once more and reported himself vastly surprised to find little change in the paper, though the men of his day mostly are gone and new and younger ones are in their places. "The Constitution still is a Georgia institution," he said. "Its man power may change but the paper seems to go on and on, sworn by and no doubt once in a while sworn at."

With Mr. Woodward is his wife, whose pen name is Helen Woodward, herself an author of note, her best known work being "Through Many Windows."

After a brief visit here the Woodwards are to go to Charleston, where they will spend several weeks at Magnolia Gardens before proceeding to New York, where Mr. Woodward hopes to finish his play for fall production.

If Mr. Woodward enjoyed his visit to The Constitution, and he no doubt did, so did its present-day staff. At least it tended to raise the reported estimate of proofreaders to a greater height than it has been in a long, long time.

Standard Eights Priced $160 Lower

PACKARD Straight Eight luxury, acknowledged supreme by motorists throughout the world, is now available to a new and wider circle of owners.

Effective March 4th, all models of the popular Standard Eight line were reduced $160 at the factory. The new prices make the Packard Standard Eight the most outstanding motor car value of the year.

From the Five-Passenger Sedan, now listing at $2275 to the Seven-Passenger Sedan-Limousine at $2675, the Packard Standard Eight line offers a wide choice of body types—and at prices actually lower than the last established prices of the Packard Six. Ten models are available, three of 126-inch wheelbase and seven with wheelbase of 133 inches.

All Packard features are found in today's Standard Eights, including the new and exclusive Shock Absorbing System with its device for eliminating front wheel "shimmy."

Packard has but one measure of quality—the highest. Standard Eight models are Packards throughout—in all that this famous name implies.

When may we demonstrate the model of your choice?

If you prefer to buy out of income, you will find the Packard Payment Plan most attractive. Many take possession of their new cars without any cash outlay because the used car allowance equals or exceeds the down payment on the new car.

DISTRICT CONTESTS IN ORATORY DELAYED

State Manager Announces
New Date for Eliminations as March 29

Dr. J. S. Stewart, of the University of Georgia at Athens, state oratory contest manager, on Tuesday announced that the date for district eliminations had been set for Friday, March 29, instead of Saturday, March 23, as originally announced. The change was made in order not to conflict with the dates of the state high school meets which will be held in all parts of the state the same week. At the same time Dr. Stewart stated that the Fifth District A. & M. school at Monroe, would take part in the fifth district contest, although the school is actually located in the eighth district. The fact that there is another A. & M. school in the eighth district and that the fifth district school, originally in this district, has been moved into the eighth, geographically, made this decision necessary. Superintendent T. O. Cheney, of Tech High school, chairman of the contest in the fifth district, announced Tuesday that he was receiving notifications from high schools all over the district. The district contest will be held at Fulton High school, Mr. Cheney stated.

Following the district meets, the twelve winners will meet in Atlanta on April 27 to decide the state championship which carries the honor of representing Georgia in the zone finals to be held at New Orleans early in May—with a tour of South America as the reward for the winner. The Constitution, official sponsor for the Georgia contests, offers prizes of $15 each to the twelve district winners and $100 and $20 to first and second place winners in the state finals.

To the Fair-Minded People Of Fulton County by George F. Longino Candidate for County Commissioner

In my announcement for the office of County Commissioner to succeed the late lamented Captain Hope I stated in the event of my election I would be a COUNTY-WIDE Commissioner. I repeat that statement.

Even though I live in College Park I will be just as fair to Buckhead and the Eighth Ward as I will to College Park and the Seventh Ward; just as fair to the Ninth Ward as to Bolton.

There are many things the County should and must do. Chief among them is intelligent solution of the sanitary problem, and proper school facilities for our children.

The present building program for primary schools should be carried forward, and, in addition, two high schools should be constructed with the least possible delay—one centrally located in the Buckhead district and one centrally located on the west side of our county. East Point now has an excellent county high school.

I favor participation by the county in a plan to relieve the thickly populated sections, such as Lakewood Heights, Buckhead, Bolton, Adamsville, Center Hill, Inman Yards, etc., of the present unhealthful and insanitary conditions. Trunk sewers should be constructed and disposal plants provided. The present inadequate individual septic tanks should be done away with.

There is an increasing and pertinent need for fire protection. Before my term of nearly four years shall have expired I believe that need for the protection of life and property can be supplied.

I shall be a COUNTY-WIDE Commissioner. I shall think and act in terms of the health, education, protection and material development of our county. I am in this race TO THE FINISH and I ask the vote, support and influence of the FAIR-MINDED people of Fulton county.

Respectfully,

GEORGE F. LONGINO,

Candidate for County Commissioner

BIDS EXPECTED SOON ON POSTOFFICE SITE

Property Owners Will Be Given Thirty Days To Submit Holdings.

Washington, March 12.—(By Staff Correspondent).—Treasury department officials revealed today that bids may be called for within a few days on property available as a site for the new federal building authorized for Atlanta.

Advertisements for bids will be published in Atlanta papers and property owners will be given 30 days in which to submit their holdings, it was stated. After this a certain preliminary inspection period will be required before final purchases are made.

According to officials in the office of the supervising architect of the treasury, having jurisdiction over new federal buildings, regulations require that bids be solicited even though the department should be disposed in advance to select the site already tentatively approved on property of the Central of Georgia railway, adjacent to the Terminal station.

While official confirmation was lacking, reports were current today that officials of the Central of Georgia have agreed to make a substantial reduction in the price originally demanded for the proposed site. The initial price suggested was understood to be in the neighborhood of $1,250,000. Just how much of a reduction has now been offered, if any, could not be learned.

Under the authorization made during the recent session of congress, the new Atlanta building, which will house general activities of the federal government in the city, will represent a total cost of $2,100,000, including a site, of which $150,000 was made immediately available for preliminary negotiations.

Savannah Plans To Honor Pulaski Sesquicentennial

Savannah, Ga., March 12.—(P)—Heads of civic clubs and representatives of patriotic societies in Savannah have been requested by Mayor Gordon Saussey to meet with city council tomorrow night at 8 o'clock to consider the matter of the 150th anniversary on October 9, 1926, of the death of Casimir, Count Pulaski, who fell at the siege of Savannah during the Revolutionary war. A committee of three prominent Polish-American citizens conferred with Mayor Saussey today relative to plans for a suitable observance of this historic event.

These are Casimir S. Balogha, of Detroit, president of the Polish Army Veterans' association; Czeslaw Mrowowski, Detroit, general secretary of the association; and Captain V. Gasiorowski, author and a director of the Polish National Alliance college, Cambridge Springs, Pa. The visitors hope to make the celebration one of international scope.

After the meeting tomorrow evening they will proceed to Atlanta to confer with Governor Hardman. The president of Poland, who will be traveling in this country at the time, will be asked to attend, as will the president of the United States, according to present plans.

Tomorrow the visitors will lay wreaths on the monument erected to Count Pulaski in Monterey square on Bull street.

GEORGIA DENTAL HYGIENISTS NAME 1929 OFFICIALS

The Georgia Dental Hygienists association held its first annual meeting at the Henry Grady hotel Tuesday.

Mrs. Lucy Kennedy, president, gave the opening address and presented Dr. H. M. Garvin, of Winnipeg, Canada, who gave a most interesting paper and clinic.

A luncheon honoring Dr. Garvin was served at 12:30 o'clock which was attended by many of Georgia's more prominent dentists. Several talks were made and Julian Bushm entertained with sleight of hand performances.

At the general meeting Mrs. A. G. Smith, president, presided. Officers were elected and installed as follows: Mrs. Morton W. Almand, president-elect; Mrs. Lucy M. Kennedy, vice president; Miss Adeline Forrester, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Ruby Leard, of Marietta, was named councillor and Dr. J. Russell Mitchell was elected to serve on the board of advisers.

The second annual meeting of the association will be held in conjunction with the Georgia State Dental association in June, 1930.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD BY MEMBERS OF KIWANIS CLUB

Memorial services to seven members of the Kiwanis club who have died during the past two years featured the program of the weekly luncheon meeting of the organization held Tuesday at the Ansley hotel. Colonel William Lawson Peel, W. W. Orr, Harry W. Wilson, Phillip L. Gomez, James M. Cochran, Carl W. Owens and Major Asa Warren Candler were the members for whom memorial services were held.

Fred H. Sneed, past president of the Kiwanis club, paid tribute to the men as their names were called. Jack Cathcart sounded taps for the dead and a quartet, composed of Floyd Jennings, Alvin Foster, Harry Adams and Ed Bray, sang "Soldier, Rest."

The program Tuesday was in charge of Sam W. Carson and included a mixed quartet with Miss Frances Woodley, soprano; Mrs. Euse Cury, contralto; Ed Bray, bass, and Harry F. Adams, tenor.

TWO MACON BANDITS BROUGHT TO ATLANTA

Fred Thomas and Joe Harvey
Harris To Face Trial
Here for Hold-Ups.

Macon, Ga., March 12.—(P)—Double-handcuffed, one to the other, and held by officers at the end of a long steel chain, Fred Thomas and Joe Harvey Harris, young bandits, left Macon this afternoon for Fulton county, where Friday they are scheduled to face trial on three hold-up charges.

"I hate to do you this way boys," said a good natured deputy as he placed their hands in the cuffs, "but I hear you've got rabbit in you." It was Deputy Sheriff R. T. Tolbert speaking. He had just been tipped off to "be on his guard" by Deputy Sheriff William Brannan, of Bibb county.

The two young bandits, both under 30 years of age, were convicted here for assaulting Louis Avrunin, local jeweler, in an attempted hold-up, and for stealing an automobile, under the names of Thomas and Harris. In Atlanta they will be arraigned on the hold-up charges under different names, though they have been identified as the same pair.

Prue Benson, alias Joe Harvey Harris, under indictment here for robbery, were brought to Fulton Tower from Macon Tuesday night by Deputy Sheriff R. T. Tolbert. Benson and Thomas were tried and convicted in Macon on robbery charges, and have appealed their cases. They will be tried on the charges in the near future, it was said.

Remove Film...

See teeth
gleam and glisten

New special film-removing dentifrice whitens teeth amazingly where ordinary methods fail.

WINNING smiles depend on glorious white teeth—and teeth like that depend on freedom from what dentists know as film. Film is a stubborn, clinging coating that ordinary ways fail to remove successfully. It is the chief source of serious tooth and gum disorders—of decay and pyorrhea.

To remove film dentists prescribe the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

It acts to curdle film so that brushing easily removes it in gentle safety.

In a few days teeth grow whiter and begin to sparkle. They continue to improve for months. Start today. Get Pepsodent at any drug counter or write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

"Those of us who are on the stage ought to be rated as experts on coughs. We study them constantly, because how we dread them!

"If an actor coughs, he can't say his lines. If the audience coughs, it won't hear his lines. So the nuisance of coughing gets us, going and coming.

"I smoke sparingly, when I smoke. But recently I was introduced to OLD GOLDS. Since then I've doubled my smoking ration. First, because I like OLD GOLDS; second, because they like me... they are so good to my throat.

Ministers, Religious Groups Oppose Open Sunday Plan To Be Offered in Council

Sunday School Association, Baptist Pastors and Bishop Candler Denounce Cobb Proposal.

Opposition to the proposed "open Sunday" in Atlanta was voiced Tuesday by a number of religious leaders and church associations, all of whom were loud in their protests against the plan of Councilman R. M. Cobb, Jr., to introduce an ordinance at the next meeting of the city council regarding the city's "blue laws" which force theaters, baseball parks and other places of amusement to remain closed on Sunday.

The Georgia Sunday School association, through its associate superintendent, S. L. Gesser, announced that it would bitterly oppose any change in the present statutes, while the Baptist Ministers' association passed resolutions vigorously opposing the change, and Dr. William Howard Faust, pastor of the Gordon Street Baptist church, denounced the proposal in an open letter to the Constitution.

The plan also was bitterly denounced in a statement by Bishop Warren A. Candler, issued several hours before the death of his brother, Asa G. Candler.

Stop Headache In Few Minutes

The next time you have a headache, neuralgia, rheumatic or periodic pain, try the improved method of relief—two teaspoonfuls of Capidine in a little water. Being liquid, Capidine acts almost instantly, much quicker than tablets and powders, and is more effective.

Capidine relieves pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening them. It does not upset the stomach. Has given satisfaction to millions during the past 30 years. At all drug stores—30c and 60c sizes, also trial size.—(adv.)

FAITH

Most Great Achievements In Every Walk of Life Have Been Accomplished Largely By Faith!

ALL the great works of mankind have been the direct result of an abiding faith that knew no bounds.

The towering skyscrapers that reach to the heavens; the mammoth bridges that span our waterways; the railroads that thread across the continent; the ocean greyhounds that link the hemispheres—these are all due to the faith of some man or group of men.

And CREDIT on which business success depends, rests on Faith!

Reputation, integrity and belief in one's fellow-man are the main essentials of every credit transaction.

One of the great monuments to Faith is the Morris Plan, which makes credit available to the multitude through loans of from $50 to $5,000. Here at Morris Plan are large financial resources which are loaned primarily on the basis of Faith, in accordance with the borrower's ability to make repayment within a year.

Atlanta's Only Woman Bank Official Resigns Position

With acceptance Tuesday by the board of directors of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank of Miss Jay Spencer Knapp's resignation from her position as assistant cashier it became known that Atlanta's only woman bank official soon is to retire from active business life.

It was with considerable reluctance that the board accepted Miss Knapp's resignation and she was prevailed upon to remain until April 1 in the position which she has capably filled since January 1, 1921.

In discussing the matter Tuesday Miss Knapp stated that she felt she had earned a vacation and would sail for Europe, where she will stay for an indefinite period. "I have no definite plans," she said, "but I think I shall just travel about in a leisurely manner and enjoy life. Rural England and Scotland seem most to appeal to my fancy now but I plan to take plenty of time and see anything that appeals to me." She also stated that her travels doubtless would bring her to Paris where she intends to visit an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John McNaught. Mr. McNaught formerly was the publisher of the San Francisco Call, but for several years has made his home in the French capital.

Miss Knapp began her connection with the bank more than 20 years ago. She was first employed as secretary to the late Joseph T. Orme, who was vice president of what was then the Lowry National bank. With ever increasing responsibilities she continued with this bank until its union in 1921 with the Atlanta National bank to form the present organization.

At that time in recognition of her ability she was made assistant cashier and became Atlanta's first and only woman bank executive.

SALESMAN'S STORY OF THEFT BRANDED FAKE BY WARRANT

Marietta, Ga., March 12.—(P)—W. C. Durham, a local salesman, who reported to the police last week that he had been robbed by an unidentified assailant who left him tied to a tree by the side of a deserted road near here, has been charged in a misdemeanor warrant with embezzlement of his company's merchandise.

The defendant was represented by Attorney Oakes, Nix and Lyles. It is thought they will file a motion for a new trial. Judge Stark is presiding. The grand jury adjourned Tuesday afternoon after having been in session since the first of last week.

Approximately 55 true bills were returned. The majority being for violation of the prohibition law in some form. Included in recommendations were that the courthouse be repaired and that the clerk of the courts office be enlarged.

They also recommended that the county officers be paid $15 for each bill destroyed by them. There has been no allowance for some time for the destruction of bills.

Dr. O. O. Simmon, of Norcross, was foreman, and W. G. Holt, former clerk of court, was clerk.

STANDARD PRICES URGED AT MEETING OF ROOF MAKERS

Columbus, Ga., March 12.—(P)—An address by Judge F. S. Spruill, of Rocky Mount, N. C., in which the speaker stressed the importance of standardization of prices of roofing products, featured the opening session of Roofer Manufacturers club convention here today.

Judge Spruill, general counsel of the North Carolina Pine association, told the some 30 Georgia and Alabama lumbermen that it was important for them to have unity in organization for curtailment of production and standardization of prices.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressing regret for the death of the late Lee Long, former speaker of the Alabama house of representatives. The meeting will continue through tomorrow.

LIFE TERM VERDICT FOR BUFORD SLAYER

Jury Finds Man Guilty of Killing Over Movie Show.

Lawrenceville, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Charles Hamilton, 63-year-old Buford citizen, charged with the murder of Fletcher Rylee, also well known Buford man, on the night of February 22, was found guilty of murder by a jury today in the Gwynnett superior court.

The jury deliberated about two hours, bringing in the verdict and recommending the defendant to the mercy of the court, which means a life sentence for the man who shot Rylee after some words had passed between the two in a movie show.

Evidence was brought out by the state that Hamilton cursed Rylee after they had come out of the show and that Rylee either slapped or knocked him down. Hamilton pulled his pistol and shooting Rylee in the side, from which he died the following night in a Gainesville hospital.

Intense interest was shown during the trial. The courtroom was filled to its capacity, many of the high school students being present during the arguments this morning.

Solicitor Clifford Pratt won the first case he tried as a state officer since his election. He was assisted in the prosecution by John I. Kelly.

Any Medicine Would Do

"I am a Baptist minister and this is the first time my name has ever been used in connection with any medicine, but I have gained 13 pounds on three bottles of Sargon, and I would not take one thousand dollars for what this medicine has done for me.

"I have lived in Atlanta for 27 years, and even before that time I presume for 30 years—I have been taking different medicines, and Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills have done more for me than all the other medicines and treatments I have taken put together.

"For the past four years I have had a continuous pain in my right side, that has been so bad at times that when I would bend over it was only with great effort that I could straighten up again. There were times when it seemed just next to impossible to get about on account of the severity of the pain, and I had begun to think I would never be free of it.

"I have suffered with indigestion ever since I was a child, and in the past few years this condition grew steadily worse. My food would not digest, and after eating I suffered so with gas pains and bloating that I was in absolute misery—and it made no difference how light the food was. At nights I was restless. I didn't sleep soundly, and I would get up in the mornings tired and nervous. I lacked energy and strength, and was generally run down and debilitated.

"I would not have believed that any medicine could have made such a remarkable difference in my condition, in such a short time as the Sargon treatment did. It ended my nervousness, built me back up with plenty of strength and energy—and best of all—that severe pain in my side is entirely gone.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills have proved an important part of the treatment. They stimulated my liver, relieved my constipation, and they have never purged or made me sick in the least. They seem to assist rather than force nature, and I regard the entire Sargon treatment as simply wonderful."

The above grateful statement was recently made by Rev. J. J. Watkins, of 809 Bankhead avenue, who is the beloved pastor of Cameron Street Baptist Church.

Many similar experiences have been reported to the special representative of the Sargon Laboratories who is stationed at Jacobs Drug Store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, for the purpose of giving those interested full information about this remarkable new scientifically developed formula. He will be glad to answer any questions about Sargon or Sargon Soft Mass Pills, and is being daily consulted by hundreds. Sargon may also be obtained from Jacobs' stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

Judge Green spoke on "American Preservation." Mrs. D. W. Kraus expressed the welcome of the Brunswick chapter and Mayor N. Emanuel represented the city. Charles Gowen spoke for men's organizations of Brunswick, and Mrs. J. E. Lambright welcomed the visitors on behalf of women's clubs. Mrs. Walter D. Lammon, of Macon, responded.

BETTER FINANCING OF STATE SCHOOL SYSTEM IS URGED

Deplored the present "unsatisfactory and unsound" method of financing the school department of the state, the Atlanta Public School Teachers' association Tuesday announced a set of resolutions asking the Georgia legislature to correct the existing conditions.

The resolutions follow:

Whereas: Many teachers in the rural schools of Georgia have not been paid their salaries for a number of months, the result of an unsatisfactory and unsound method of financing the school department of the state; and

Whereas: It is a fundamental principle of good business administration that the salaries of all employees should be paid when due; and in recognition of this principle, under the law, the right of the worker to his wages is the first consideration; and

Whereas: It is eminently unfair and unjust for the state of Georgia to require the faithful public servants to wait for their salaries for long periods of time thereby causing serious inconvenience and embarrassment to these teachers whose salaries are very low as compared with average salaries of teachers throughout the nation; and

Whereas: Such a system of financing the public schools of the state has been in existence for many years and should be discontinued for the welfare of the cause of education in Georgia; therefore, be it

KENTUCKY COLD CHECK LAW HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Frankfort, Ky., March 12.—(P)—The Kentucky cold check law was held invalid today by the court of appeals, the state tribunal of last resort, on the ground that it violated the federal and state constitutional provision that there shall be no involuntary servitude except for crime.

The court held, in effect, that the cold check law, which is similar to those of many other states, seeks to imprison persons who violate a contract to pay a debt by giving a check which is dishonored by a bank. Since the act contains no provision under which the accused person can obtain his release by delivering up his estate or taking the paper's oath, the court ruled that it violates the constitutional guarantee.

OYSTER PLANTERS GRANTED APPEAL IN NEW DECISION

Richmond, Va., March 12.—(P)—The supreme court of appeals today allowed York river oyster planters an appeal from the decision of Judge Floyd H. Roberts in Gloucester circuit court, holding that the planters were occupying public oyster rock as leased area in violation of the state constitution. No time for hearing the case was given.

Individual tongs have agreed not to invade the planters' staked grounds pending a decision from the supreme court. Judge Roberts' decision was rendered recently when planters sought an injunction to restrain tongs from invading grounds said to be illegally leased by planters but on which the commission of fisheries had allowed the planters two years of grace to remove cultivated oysters.

NAME RECEIVERS FOR CORAL GABLES BILTMORE HOTEL

Miami, Fla., March 12.—(P)—Foreclosure proceedings filed in Dade county circuit court today by New Orleans and West Palm Beach banks as trustees for owners of $1,500,000 of the $2,000,000 in bonds issued for the construction of the Miami-Biltmore hotel in Coral Gables, resulted in the appointment today of two receivers for the institution.

The receivers, named by Judge A. J. Rose in circuit court, were Marshall Price and E. S. Blodgett, both Miami men.

In a statement issued last night attorneys for the hotel company asserted that the suit was a friendly one, and that it was brought for the purpose of aiding in the adjustment of affairs of the company.

The suit was unopposed, the attorneys said.

No More Leases of Oil Land, Declares Hoover in Drastic Measure for Conservation

Order Exceeds Steps Taken by Roosevelt and Taft To Protect Public Domain.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—President Hoover's announcement of "complete conservation of government lands during this administration" is the equivalent of the famous act of conservation promulgated by President Roosevelt in 1907 and President Taft in 1909. Of the three, it is Mr. Hoover's action that is the most sweeping. The western senator most familiar with the subject matter of Mr. Hoover's action, calls it "tremendously drastic." Mr. Hoover says, in so many words, that his administration will not lease or otherwise part with a single acre of oil except in cases where acts of congress require him to. There will be, in the words of Mr. Hoover's announcement, "no leases or disposals." Wherever the federal government has "holdings" or "controls" or other form of title or right, in every case the administration will hold onto every acre of oil that it has. The announcement does not touch over lands already known to contain oil. It covers lands potentially oil-bearing. It covers not only the specific lands familiarly known as "navy reserves." It covers, apparently, all land in national parks, all in forest reserves; in short, every acre over which the government has any sort of control whatever. The only exceptions are where Mr. Hoover has power. The chief of these exceptions consists of Indian lands in Oklahoma. Existing laws passed by congress with reference to the Indians makes it mandatory upon the administration to make leases from time to time.

Not only in principle but in acreage, Mr. Hoover's action is more sweeping than the actions of Roosevelt and Taft, both of which caused immense commotion at the time. Roosevelt's sensational action consisted of withdrawing 16,000,000 acres of forest land. Mr. Taft's withdrawal covered about 7,000,000 acres. Mr. Taft's order applied only to lands known to be oil-bearing. In part it said that "all public oil lands be withheld from disposition."

This action by Mr. Taft in 1909 is the beginning of the historical background of Mr. Hoover's present announcement. Mr. Taft's withdrawal remained in effect until 1920. In 1920 congress passed two laws out of which arose all the recent commotion about oil. One of these acts required that no one who had acquired some kind of right previous to Mr. Taft's action should be permitted, under certain regulations, to go on with their development. The other act provided that what were known as "naval oil lands" should be developed by "contract, lease or otherwise." The acts of congress in 1920, needless to say, contemplated honest development. It was under these acts that Fall leased Elk Hills to Doheny and Teapot Dome to Sinclair. Several other leases made under the same acts have recently been under criticism from a senate committee. Many other leases are, of course, entirely legitimate and subject to no criticism. Now President Hoover's announcement says that no future leases will be made to anybody. How this announcement will be received cannot be foretold. The avowed conservation acts of Roosevelt and Mr. Taft brought general approval in the east, but much outcry in the west. Much of the west feels that its prosperity is hindered by policies of conservation.

As respects the oil industry generally, excepting companies directly affected, it will, in its present mood, welcome the withdrawal of a future source of production. The industry estimates are made that in future decades the country may find itself seriously embarrassed by its exhaustion of oil following present waste. Many hold that conservation in the broadest sense calls for even more attention now than in Roosevelt's time. For example, an assertion has been made seriously by responsible persons that within forty years the country may find its copper exhausted.

BLIZZARD STRIKES WESTERN STATES; HEAVY SNOWFALL

Denver, March 12.—(P)—Winter took a parting fling at the Rocky mountain region today, unleashing a blizzard that left a wide area buried under the heaviest snow of the year. In Wyoming, where the brunt of the storm was felt, a blinding snow paralyzed systems of transportation, hampered the air mail and marooned small towns and villages behind drifts which covered highways to a depth of nearly three feet. The storm area extended northward to the Canadian border, spreading a blanket of snow over Montana and southward to New Mexico. Heavy snowfall was general in Colorado except in the San Luis valley, in the southwest part of the state. Highways were blocked. Denver was overcast with a nine-inch covering of white and the Pike's Peak region assumed a wintry aspect in freakish contrast to springlike weather which prevailed in the area yesterday.

BOARD MEMBERS HIT AT CRITICS

provement club) do so because they have nothing else to do. They harp on the board because of the lack of motherhood and peace and love. The statements are made for political reasons. "They make a political football out of the school department, and I would hate to have the education of 60,000 Atlanta school children on my conscience because of a political fight unless I could offer some solution of the situation which I criticized."

J. Ira Harrison, commissioner from the fourth, "Last night, at a meeting of the Capitol View and Sylvan Hills clubs, there was some discussion of the difference in the cost of operation of Fulton county and Atlanta schools. The public has not been informed of the reasons for the difference in cost. These matters are not explained. Mountains are made out of nothing. There seems to be an effort to poison the public mind with a personal interview with the board."

"It is our duty to inform the public concerning these matters before the war of Atlanta is so exposed. The warpeople have been willing to learn the truth. Some people go so far as to advocate consolidation of the city and Fulton county systems under the school department. This is all a mere, unfavorable propaganda. Council has passed the buck to this body and certain members have been unwilling to put things which they themselves approved when they were submitted to them by the board."

Critics of Atlanta do not know that the school department is the equipment bought from bond funds and that every bond expenditure also is approved by council. "Citizens of Atlanta do not know that the school department is the equipment bought from bond funds and that every bond expenditure also is approved by council. "Citizens of Atlanta do not know that the school department is the equipment bought from bond funds and that every bond expenditure also is approved by council."

Hancock—"I just want to thank Mr. Harrison for so fearlessly defending the board at the session Monday night, referring to Mr. Harrison's address at the joint session where a proposed referendum on the merger was discussed. He is to be congratulated for his break through the meeting."

"Most of them have falsified deliberately for selfish reasons. If we do not stand firm, we are going to let the schools back under council. This would cost years of educational progress for which the board of education has labored vigorously. "Harrison—"I move that this board appoint a committee to combat the adverse criticism."

Powell—"I feel that this should come from members of the school board on the composite committee now engaged in solving the city's financial problem. "Gaines—"The people who are now criticizing the school system always did. The widely heralded publicity given some of the criticisms was planned no doubt by persons who do not live in the city. Yet they are attempting to tell us how to run the school system. They probably met some of the business men in the Buhead district and drew up the protest."

"I think that any statement should come from the boards of the board at the proper time—probably from the president of the board, the superintendent of schools or the chairman of the finance committee of city council."

House Organ Planned. It was then that Mr. Powell explained his plan for a house organ to the board. The committee will report on the matter at the next meeting. The board voted to take over the contract of the Lottis Heating and Plumbing company on several contracts because of alleged failure to perform the work in accordance with specifications.

Several alleged discrepancies were reported by a special committee headed by Dr. McIntosh M. Burns, who asked that the board take that action. On recommendation of Raymond R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs, the same committee which probably the Lottis contract was given the duty of investigating the electrical installations made by the Howard P. Foley company on several schools. Mr. Ritchie stated that the contractor had not performed the work in accordance with specifications. Schools affected are Ashby, Capitol View, Davis, Stanton, Hoke Smith, Annie West, O'Keefe, Bass and Brown.

Mr. Maddox and J. Allen Conch succeeded in obtaining permission from the board to begin work at once on construction of an auditorium for the Mendor Goldsmith school. Mr. Powell was empowered to appoint an arbitrator to adjust differences between Clare & company, electrical contractors, and the business administration relative to installation of certain electrical equipment. Members of the board voted to thank directors of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' association for taking stand against any readjustment policy in the educational advantages offered the children of Atlanta by the public schools. Mr. Maddox made the motion.

No school rolls will be distributed by the school department for advertising purposes in the future under a ruling of the board.

Fulton county was requested to grade the Adair school grounds. Stoker contract awards for 10 Atlanta schools were referred to the joint contract committee of the board and the bond commission for consideration.

Resolutions deploring the death of the late Miss Ruth Rogers, 15 years a teacher in the Ella Smilie school, were unanimously adopted.

Mrs. G. R. Haskins was elected as member of the board of lady visitors to the board of education on nomination of Mr. Warren, who declared that Mrs. C. R. Haynes, who had served for the past two years, could not accept the place for another year.

Mr. Gaines nominated Mrs. W. C. Rivers to the same post from the third ward.

SNOOK WRITES MITCHELL THREAT TO RESIGN

his institution be stopped. Mr. Borah, it was said, would demand that Mrs. Willibrand show cause for her presence in Warden Snook or cease the practice.

Over long distance telephone from Washington, Attorney General Mitchell said that he had nothing to make public at present regarding the Snook-Willibrand controversy but added that he might make a decision today after his conference with Senator Borah.

BORAH TO INTERVIEW MITCHELL TODAY. BY HAMIL BALEY.

Attorney General Mabel Walker Willibrand assumed national importance and presented an issue which may have far-reaching political consequences. Immediately after receipt by air mail of a batch of important documents from Atlanta Senator Borah addressed a letter to Attorney General Mitchell asking whether there are any charges or complaints against Warden Snook other than his opposition to the system of prison espionage initiated by Senator Borah and Attorney General Sargent. The Idaho senator plans to follow this up tomorrow with a personal interview with the new attorney general.

Challenge to System. Warden Snook, as a challenge to the system against which he complains, has presented his resignation in conditional form to the department of justice. The letter states that if it is to be the policy of the new attorney general to sustain the system of espionage initiated by Senator Borah and Attorney General Sargent, it is the desire of the warden to resign in protest.

Political Washington is watching the developments in this contest with the greatest interest because it now appears likely to develop into an open fight between the two persons who played perhaps the most active part in the campaign which elected President Hoover—Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, and Assistant Attorney General Mabel Walker Willibrand, of California. These two fighting westerners have already assumed positions diametrically opposed to each other. Mrs. Willibrand defends the use of undercover agents in the federal prisons as a means of checking up on conditions for the penitentiaries and also as a source of information which can be utilized in the enforcement of prohibition and other laws. Senator Borah opposes the system as repugnant to American ideas, destructive of prison discipline and dangerous to the institutions of a democracy.

Showdown in Sight. Unless some means is found of composing these differences it appears inevitable that President Hoover will sooner or later be brought to a point where he will have to make a choice between curbing the activities of Mrs. Willibrand or having an open break with Senator Borah, whose friendship and political support are highly regarded at the white house. It is possible that this difficult situation may be avoided if the new attorney general, after investigation, should decide to abolish the espionage system.

SENATOR GEORGE WILL PLANS ACTION SOON.

Vienna, Ga., March 12.—(Special.) United States Senator Walter F. George arrived at his home here today, coming direct from Washington. Senator George, who was confined to his room with sickness ever since last Thursday, said that he had no opportunity to investigate the latest developments in the prison "spy" system at the U. S. penitentiary at Atlanta. Until he had looked into the matter more fully he declared he had nothing to say regarding the entire affair.

Senator George stated, however, that if his health permitted he planned to write to the department of justice at Washington tomorrow asking full details of the affair and, if he was able to leave the house, he might go to Atlanta to look into that end.

"SYSTEM" IS SCORED BY LEWIS J. BAILEY.

An espionage system involving the falsification of government records in order to put department of justice agents in the Atlanta federal penitentiary where they can snoop around and spy on the person accused of crime is a wholly un-American, in the opinion of Lewis J. Bailey, former chief of the department of bureau of investigation in Washington, and more recently the agent in charge of the bureau of investigation in this district.

Mr. Bailey, who retired from the government service some time ago and who is now with the law firm of Branch & Howard, expressed reluctance to discuss the department Tuesday, but on insistence for his opinions he declared that this is supposed to be a free country with free people who should be free from espionage. Espionage on prison heads was never practiced as far as he knows during his connection with the bureau of investigation. Mr. Bailey commented. He said that he has never believed that men should be put into the institutions merely to report to the department if anything is wrong, but that investigation should wait until there is a suspicion that somebody has violated the law, and should not be instituted to lead somebody into violations.

The matter of espionage in the federal prisons was brought up several times during his connection with the department for consideration as to its advisability, but each time it was largely determined that it would not be the policy of the government, as it was thought unwise, Mr. Bailey said.

Reports Falsified. "Falsification of government records strikes me as a dangerous thing which may lead to a great many things, once started, you never know where you are going with such methods. If an agent was serving his country during wartime, he could easily falsify anything without feeling injured, but in peace time, it is questionable as to whether the information obtained through a spy system would be dependable, as an honorable man would scarcely like to have the blot of a prison record against him."

Mr. Bailey declared that Warden Snook is one of the best wardens the federal prison system has ever had, that Snook is a man of absolute honor, a straight square-shooter, and a dependable man. "I have every confidence in his ability from the many times I came in contact with him while I was with the department," Mr. Bailey said. "Snook has handled the prison in fine shape."

Mr. Bailey said that a system of espionage except in war time is un-American, and even during the war time it should be used with a great deal of caution, as innocent people sometimes are hurt by it.

CANADIAN EXPERT TO MAKE ADDRESS TO DENTISTS TODAY

A one-day meeting of the Southern Academy of Periodontology will convene at 8:20 o'clock this morning at the Biltmore hotel with dentists from more than a dozen states in attendance.

Dr. M. H. Garvin, of Winnipeg, Canada, president of the Canadian Dental association will read a paper on "A Consideration of the Problem of Periodontal Treatment, for the Average Citizen." Dr. A. K. Parks, president-elect of the National Society of Denture Prosthetists will give an illustrated lecture on "The Importance in Periodontal Maintenance of the Correct Vertical Dimension." The morning program will include a motion picture depicting some of the more important phases of dental work and the afternoon session will be devoted largely to the discussion of the direction of Dr. Garvin.

Dr. Celia Rich, of Nashville, Tenn., chairman of the academy, will preside.

DAVIS DEFENDS THE MAN OVER 50 AS AN EMPLOYEE

Erie, Pa., March 12.—In the opinion of James J. Davis, secretary of labor, the day is coming when public opinion will shame out of the company the man who discharges a good and sound man "at the early age of 50." He gave his views at a banquet.

REPARATION EXPERTS WORK OVER REPORTS

Attempt To Fit Subcommittee Efforts Into General Plan Made.

Paris, March 12.—(P)—The subcommittee of the reparations experts today applied themselves to the task of making all their reports fit into the skeleton of the proposed "trustee" or international bank for reparations payments.

The one thing definitely settled with respect to the projected gigantic financial institution is that a trustee of some kind must be found to succeed the agent-general for reparations if the Dawes plan is to be scrapped.

Some real differences of opinion among the experts must be ironed out before the committee can go farther. General approval of the bank scheme as a general proposition seems to have covered some hitches as to the details of organization and the scope of operation.

The French press, presumably having appreciations on revelation from expert sources, doubts the wisdom of establishing an international institution of the power it is proposed to give this bank. They prefer a "trustee" with powers limited to handling reparations payments in money and kind.

The British, it is currently reported, are opposed to the whole scheme of extending deliveries in kind of the reparations account and would rather limit them, accepting a smaller total in cash rather than forcing German exports to the detriment of British trade. The subcommittee are understood to have worked on those points until the idea of submitting some new suggestion at the plenary session tomorrow afternoon.

TRAFFIC OFFICER TAGS AIRPLANE ON CITY STREET

Newark, N. J., March 12.—(P)—His airplane tagged by a traffic cop, William Sulzenberger, manufacturer, must appear in traffic court. The officer found it parked on a street where it should not have been. It was the process of being moved somewhere or other like a trunk or a piece of furniture.

MUST THE COURTS MAKE YOUR WILL FOR YOU?

UNLESS you, yourself, direct the distribution of your estate, the courts must do it—according to the law.

The result may be very different from your wishes and badly suited to your family's needs.

Don't leave it to the courts. Make your own will today, using your own good judgment.

Our officers will gladly assist you and your lawyer in drafting it properly—and we will act as your executor, trustee or guardian.

Let's talk it over—in strict confidence.

How To Get HEALTH and How To Keep It

belching or frequent passages of gas from the bowels; the gas "balloons" your bowels and presses so hard on the kidneys that it gives you pain, soreness, stiffness in the small of your back over your kidneys, making you think you have kidney trouble; at night the gas in your bowels presses upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep. In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is injured. Your complexion becomes sallow, muddy or yellow—your skin may be disfigured with liver spots or pimples; dark rings may appear under your eyes. You may become restless, nervous and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds or dull headaches; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, fermentation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning or "intestinal toxemia," as the doctors call it. High blood pressure, with headache and swooning spells, may result from continued neglect.

How to Make the Bile Flow

But when the bile stops flowing freely, how can we start it up again? The answer is: Take Calotabs at bedtime and drink water freely the next day. This formula represents the best thought and experience of the best physicians in every civilized country in the world. No other purgative will do. If you take oils, salts, cascara, or the many other simple-laxative syrups, powders and candy laxatives, you are merely wasting valuable time. They only make you feel better for a day or two. They do not remove the cause, for they do not promote the flow of the bile which is Nature's only purgative and intestinal antiseptic. When you take Calotabs you know that you have taken a real, doctor's medicine. It cleans you out thoroughly. Every inch of your twenty-five foot canal, including your stomach, small intestines and large intestines, is thoroughly cleared and washed clean and pure and your bile is flowing freely. Next morning your system feels purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please and go about your work;—there is no danger, for Calotabs are perfectly safe and create no habit except the habit of healthy bowel actions.

What are Calotabs—How do They Act?

Calotabs are composed of a thoroughly purified and refined calomel combined with assistants and correctives. The calomel increases the flow of the bile from the gall-bladder into the intestines, and also serves as an intestinal antiseptic. Every physician knows that no other medicine can take its place; there is no such thing as a substitute for calomel. The assistants act like salts, washing the calomel out of the system and preventing its accumulation and any possibility of danger. The correctives settle the stomach and bowels, preventing nausea, sickening and griping effects. Calotabs, (and water) therefore, give you the combined effect of calomel, and salts without the nauseating, sickening, griping and dangerous effects of either.

Functions of Gall-Blad.

In 24 hours your liver secretes about 25 to 30 ounces (5 to 6 teacupful) of bile, which flows through millions of minute canals, or ducts, uniting to make a large tube which empties into the gall-bladder, as creeks and rivulets unite to form a river that flows into the lake. Your gall-bladder is a hollow muscle that serves the double purpose of a reservoir and a pump. Its functions are similar to those of the urinary bladder. About two hours after eating, when the food is passing from the stomach into the intestine, your gall-bladder should begin its peristaltic contractions, thus pumping the bile into the small intestine where it is mixed with your food. Bile is also a very important digestive fluid, aiding in the digestion and absorption of fats and oils. But that is too long a story to relate here.

Nature's Danger Signals

When your car gets out of fix you can tell it. It is the same way with your bile. Nature gives you warning—not by words, but by signals or symptoms. Your doctor recognizes these danger signals and you also should know them and instantly heed them. It may save you much pain, serious illness and perhaps, big repair bills.

When the bile becomes stagnant in your gall-bladder and is dammed back into your liver instead of flowing freely into your bowels you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:—Your breath may become heavy or foul, your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your food (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn or burping, or fluttering around the heart, dizziness or blind spells; you may be troubled with

GRAB This LAST CHANCE!

NOW you can fill in those embarrassing gaps in your knowledge. Here, in 60 handy volumes which fit your pocket or handbag, you can get the essentials of the usual High School Education for only $2.98. This is positively all you pay—if you use the special order blank below before our remaining sets are gone—mail it before midnight of March 30, 1929.

What do the words "A High School Education" mean? They mean a thorough grounding in those essentials of modern knowledge which enables a person to be the most efficient in the everyday activities of his work and of his contact with others. When it is required that a person have a High School Education, it is meant that such a person must be equipped with a substantial background of English, History, General Literature, some Languages, Commercial Subjects (Business and Economics), Mathematics, Science and the Arts. It is expected that such a person will have his intelligence alert and trained to enable him to learn new things readily, to know where to look for facts not already in his possession; in short, to be a man or a woman aware of those fundamentals which form the basis of every education and of all culture.

Probably you have often felt the lack of knowledge you really ought to have at your command. Perhaps you did not get the most out of your school days, or possibly you were obliged to leave school before you had completed your education. Or your High School training has slipped into the past, and you are "rusty" on many subjects. Whatever the reason for the lack, you feel that the void is there—and you want to fill in the gaps! This 60-volume HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATIONAL COURSE is just the thing for you—it is comprehensive, easily understandable, thoroughly reliable and authentic, and absolutely up to date.

Whether you wish to study High School Subjects in the first time, or whether you merely wish to review your High School Education, you will find these 60 books exactly what you need. Read the list of titles carefully as listed at the left—and remember, all you pay for all 60 of these splendid books is two dollars and ninety-eight cents!

A word about this astonishing low cost—the price of $2.98 for all 60 of these books.

Complete Description

MAKE no mistake about what these books are. The set contains 60 different books, or 60 separate volumes. Each volume measures 3 1/2 inches, and the books run to 64 pages each. The type is 8-point (the size used in the average daily newspaper), and it is clear and easy to read. The manner of setting these books enables us to put 15,000 words of text in each book, so you see the books are not sketchy, or mere "outlines." Each text is complete in itself. The total number of pages in the set is 3,488; the total number of words exceeds 825,000! Is not this a bargain at $2.98? And we pay the postage to your address! Many of the books have illustrations or diagrams to make the text more understandable. The books are uniformly bound in stiff, substantial covers. You will be amazed and delighted with the worth of this set.

TEXTBOOKS are often dry and musty. This Educational Course will be found refreshingly different from the usual educational volume. Every book has been written with the reader constantly in mind. Every page is clear and readily understandable by the average person. No attempt is spared to provide books which everyone can use to learn without the aid of an instructor.

Every book in this 60-volume set is self-teaching—that is the plan that underlies them all, to make no instructor necessary. Of course, the books are of no value unless you read them with the determination to learn. There is no royal road to knowledge just by letting your eyes run idly over the printed page! But if you have real ambition, then these are books to help you get ahead—these are books which may be of more genuine benefit to you than all four years of formal high school training.

The simplicity of these books is truly amazing. You will be gratified to find them entirely lucid in every way. No subject is kept difficult—all are presented in a simple, straightforward manner. The authors have been interested in their subjects, and this makes it certain that those subjects are presented in a delightfully fascinating manner.

What makes some textbooks difficult for the ordinary reader is that essential facts have been left out—such facts to be supplied by the teacher. In this Educational Course, every fact is inserted in the text. With attention and determination a thorough grasp can be had of the subjects represented in this course (see the complete list at right). It is not necessary to ask questions—every question has been foreseen and already answered by the writers who have made this set a marvel of clearness and completeness.

Answers Questions Like These

All of these questions, and hundreds of others, are understandably answered in this 60-volume EDUCATIONAL COURSE, totaling some 825,000 words of text—text that a price of 60 books is only $2.98, payment in full. This price includes the postage to your address. At such an amazingly low cost, can you honestly afford to be without a set of books which promise to be so useful and valuable to you?

- (1) Who said: "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise?" (2) What is meant by "squaring the circle?" (3) What have the following names in common: "Van Buren, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce?" (4) What are the four forms of English Composition? (5) What is Psychology? (6) Who were Donatello, Cellini, Bologna, Rodin? (7) What is the Milky Way? (8) Who was Delilah? (9) What famous speech begins: "Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears?" (10) What do the following mean: (a) "Sprechen sie Deutsch?" (b) "Parlez-vous français?" (c) "Hablo usted Español?" (11) How far does a falling body drop in the first second after starting from rest? (12) What does "ibid." mean? (13) What was the Roman god of war? (14) What were the three orders of Greek architecture? (15) What chiefly caused the U. S. Civil War?

CONSIDER for a moment the wide scope of these sixty books—think just how comprehensive they are! There are 825,000 words in these sixty volumes. They include a wonderful variety of subjects, from history and economics and literature to mathematics, foreign language and the arts. Even commercial subjects, such as geography and typewriting, are included. You get a substantial foundation in the arts, and an insight into the great world of science. Then there are the handy reference volumes, the alphabetical dictionaries, which give you concise information just when you need it and exactly as you want it.

Four foreign languages—the languages which most English-speaking people desire to learn—are given in this set. These foreign languages are self-teaching in these handy volumes. They may be readily grasped with the aid of these books.

Everything you need is here—this series is compact and complete in itself. This is a course crammed with valuable information and useful knowledge. There are two volumes of questions and answers (quizzes) with which you may test your knowledge from time to time. There is that excellent general treatise on "How to Study"—this work alone is really worth the entire price of the set in the valuable hints it gives and in the manner in which it enables the average person to study in such a way that he will get the most possible good out of his efforts.

You will find it invaluable to have at hand many of these books which you may not use at first. Though some of the subjects may seem to you apart from your present interests, they will sooner or later come in handy. Everyone, today, should have a representative library of reference to which he can turn in search of facts when he requires them. That is what makes this course so thoroughly useful, and that is why sixty volumes were chosen as the ideal number of books for the set.

In our modern civilization with the miracles of modern printing, knowledge is within everyone's reach. There is no longer any excuse for any individual to remain in ignorance. Lack of knowledge is not tolerated. Today you must be progressively alert—keep abreast of the times—and maintain a standard of education that is on a par with the knowledge of your fellows. This 60-volume EDUCATIONAL COURSE will be a forward step in this direction; these sixty books will be worth far more than $2.98 to you in achieving this much to be desired result. Mail that blank before it is too late!

GIRARD, KANSAS

DISTRICT DENTISTS TO MEET THURSDAY

Annual Session of Society
Will Be at Biltmore.

The annual meeting of the Fifth District Dental society will be held at the Biltmore hotel, beginning Thursday morning and continuing through Saturday. Approximately 200 prominent dentists from all sections of the south are expected to attend. The meeting is the regular midwinter clinic. The clinic will open at 9:40 Thursday morning, with Dr. Thomas P. Himm, of Atlanta, as master.

Dr. M. D. Huff, of Atlanta, who assisted in arranging the program, Tuesday stated that outstanding specialists in their particular branches of the profession would demonstrate at the clinic. Among these are Dr. Sherman Davis, of Indianapolis, whose subject is "Nutrition"; Dr. Theodore Maves, of Cleveland, who will demonstrate "Inlay Work and Casting Hoods and Crowns"; Dr. P. Molt, of Chicago, who will speak on "X-Ray and Minor Oral Surgery," while Dr. D. D. Campbell, of Kansas City, will deal with "Full Denture Construction with Particular Emphasis on Articulation."

Dr. M. H. Garvin, of Winnipeg, president-elect of the Canadian Dental association, who speaks today at the annual meeting of the Southern Academy of Periodontology, will remain through the midwinter clinic of the Fifth District Dental society and will give an exposition of periodontoclasia. Included in the program of the meeting is a luncheon of the Georgia Alumni chapter, Xi Psi Phi fraternity at 12:30 o'clock Friday. The Psi Omega fraternity will hold a luncheon meeting at noon Friday, both luncheons being at the Biltmore. During the midwinter clinic the Delta Sigma Delta will meet.

FEDERAL BUSINESS ASSOCIATION PLANS FOR HARRIS' VISIT

Discussion of plans for the next quarterly meeting of the Atlanta Federal Business Association to be held the first week in April, at which time Senator William J. Harris is to be the principal speaker, featured the meeting Tuesday at the executive committee of the association.

This committee is composed of J. T. Rose, collector of internal revenue; Warden John W. Snook, Postmaster; E. K. Large, United States Marshal; L. M. Crawford, Clerk; W. Hager, United States district attorney; W. O. Kimsey, collector of customs; John M. Slaton, Jr., manager of the veterans' bureau; Major G. H. Frank, of the fourth corps area headquarters at Fort McPherson, and Joe P. Johnston, postoffice inspector in charge and president of the association.

Noted Methodist Leader Addresses Ministers Daily

President Charles C. Coleman, of Southern Methodist university, Dallas, Texas, author of "Christ or Chaos," is the guest of the Ministerial Alliance of this city as noonday speaker at the Baptist Tabernacle daily this week.

Speaking on the "Atonement" Tuesday he said:

"Not the birth of Christ, but His death is the turning point of the history of mankind. Perhaps no other cardinal doctrine of Christian religion rests on so ample a scriptural foundation. The cross of Christ is become the power of God and the wisdom of God."

"Here let us pause and marvel and worship. We are listening not to the world's greatest teacher but the Great Lover. Here is something more than theology; here is bleeding, suffering love. From this rugged cross there is released upon society a stream of love sufficient to ultimately redeem humanity, to overcome this deadly inertia that is gripping the heart of the world, to cleanse all the sluggish channels of jealousy, bigotry and hate, to create all the philanthropies with their multiplied ministries of kindness, to overcome racial antipathies, to quench the carnage of war, to quell all the stammering tongues of men to join in one great anthem of peace on earth, good will to men."

Mr. Coleman's subject at the Tabernacle today from 12:15 to 12:45 o'clock is the "Resurrection."

HENRY S. CANBY WILL SPEAK HERE AT BOOK EXHIBIT

Henry Seidel Canby, editor of the Literary Review, noted critic and author, will speak at the Southern Book exposition, to open Saturday, March 16, and continue through March 23. Acceptance of an invitation to participate in the exposition program to be held in the book shop at M. Rich & Bros. company, was received from the distinguished man of letters, Miss Agnes Kendrick Gray, director, announced Tuesday.

Mr. Canby will pass through Atlanta on his way to Florida and will stop off here to appear at the Southern Book exposition, Miss Gray said. He is scheduled to speak Thursday afternoon. "While Mr. Canby is not one of the south's writers, a large group of whom will participate in the program during the exposition week, he is so highly esteemed in literary circles that his appearance here will be an outstanding event in the program," Miss Gray asserted.

Three additions to the list of southern authors signifying their intention to take part in the book exposition were reported Tuesday by the director. They are Mary Granger, of Savannah, whose latest book is "Wife to Pilot," Mrs. Effie De Renne Barrow, of Savannah, poet, and W. L. Couch, director of the University of North Carolina Press, who will discuss southern publishing. An exhibit will be shown by the university press.

CITIZENS SEEK STONE MOUNTAIN LINE EXTENSION

The state public service commission Tuesday took under advisement a petition filed by citizens living on the Stone Mountain car line asking that the service of that line be extended into Atlanta from Decatur, its present northern terminus. The citizens were represented by Carl N. Guess, former state senator, who declared the present system causes the car riders inconvenience due to the transfer which must be made at Decatur. F. L. Butler, representing the Georgia Power company, declared that the Stone Mountain line had recently lost much of its patronage and said the line is being operated at a loss to the company.

Chairman James A. Perry suggested that the citizens who live on the line should cooperate in having their respective municipalities regulate bus traffic in the same manner that municipalities on the Marietta line followed recently. The regulation of bus traffic by the towns on the Marietta line saved that line from being scrapped entirely, according to Mr. Perry.

BANKERS' GROUP NAMES GIBSON TO GOVERNORSHIP

Bayne Gibson, president of the Bayne Gibson Mortgage company and of the Atlanta Mortgage Loan association, has been elected to the board of governors of the Mortgage Bankers' Association of America, according to information received here Tuesday. This action followed recent action on the part of the association in authorizing the election of eight additional members to the board of governors.

The association is composed of mortgage loan men in the United States and Canada and the president at the present time is E. E. Murray, vice president of the American Trust company, Nashville, Tenn.

The main objects of the organization are: Encouraging intelligent legislation affecting the mortgage loan business; acquiring and disseminating correct information regarding the mortgage loan business; aiding public discrimination between such securities and dealers therein as should command confidence and those who should not; securing the integrity of practice where uniformity is desirable; and affording opportunity for those engaged in the mortgage loan business to secure the benefits of personal acquaintance and interchange of ideas, both by individual contact and public discussion.

READERS APPRECIATE This Great Educational Enterprise.

This fact is evidenced by the large number of books distributed. Large quantities are being given out over the counter daily and mail orders are being received in large volume. This new dictionary should be in every home and office. No matter how many dictionaries you have or the cost of same, they are out of date and useless when compared with the New World Dictionary Based on the Original Webster, entirely new.

Those who have not taken advantage of the offer are advised to do so at an early date for the reason that the distribution cannot last forever. You must see and examine this superior volume to appreciate its size, scope, value and handsome binding.

The dictionary coupon is printed daily in this newspaper. Three coupons clipped on consecutive days qualify you to obtain the big new dictionary at the nominal price. Mail orders will be filled when postage is added, as explained in the coupon.

DRIVE TO REBUILD "OLD IRONSIDES" IS GIVEN IMPETUS

Continuing the drive begun in 1927 to rebuild "Old Ironsides," famous American frigate, a new movement has been started to raise additional funds through the sale of pictures of the ship and attractive souvenirs made from the original hull, which is more than 100 years old, according to information received at the local postoffice Tuesday from Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, U. S. N., chairman of the national executive "Save Old Ironsides" committee.

Anyone interested may secure additional information from the office of the superintendent of mails, Room 103, Postoffice building.

CENTRAL POLICIES TO BE CONTINUED, CLIFT DECLARES

A. E. Clift, recently elected president of the Central of Georgia railway, formally announced Tuesday that present policies of the road would be maintained and continued under his administration.

"The Central of Georgia always has had as its prime policy a desire to deal fairly with everyone with whom it comes in contact and there will be no change in this practice," Mr. Clift stated.

EFFRON STORES OPEN NEW UNIT IN COVINGTON

The seventeenth unit in the chain of Efron department stores has been located at Covington and soon will be opened under management of Sidney Sake, it was announced Tuesday.

A building has been leased from the Anderson estate in that city. The structure now is being remodeled to house the store.

ALUMNI OF PERDUE TO BE ENTERTAINED AT A. S. M. E. DINNER

Atlanta alumni of Purdue university will be guests of the Yellow Jacket student branch of Georgia Tech tonight, when the students entertain the Atlanta section of American Society of Mechanical Engineers at a dinner meeting at which Dr. A. A. Potter, Purdue's dean of engineering, will be the principal speaker.

P. M. Taylor also will make a report at the dinner of the overland trip taken by a number of Tech students to the Tech-California football game at Pasadena New Year's day.

The meeting will begin at Tech's new dining hall, opposite the east stand of the stadium, at 5:10 o'clock.

MEDICAL SOCIETY OF FIFTH DISTRICT TO MEET TONIGHT

The Fifth District Medical society will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the Academy of Medicine, 38 Prescott street, N. E. Dr. A. G. Fort, the district president, will preside.

A symposium on influenza by Dr. T. F. Abernethy, state health officer, and Dr. G. B. Adams, professor of pathology at Emory university, will feature the program. The clinical aspects and treatment of influenza will be discussed by Dr. C. W. Strickler, while Dr. J. N. Brawner will go into its neurological phases.

The address of welcome will be made by Dr. M. T. Harrison, vice president of the Fulton County Medical society, and the response by Dr. Wiley Ansley, of Decatur.

THREE SENTENCED Cottonseed Theft Brings Terms of 2 to 5 Years.

Theft of $139.19 worth of cottonseed brought terms of two to five years each Monday for Robert Gay, Homer Byrd, Waymon Gay and Paul Bell when the defendants were convicted in Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy's division of Fulton superior court on a charge of larceny from the house. The cottonseed was stolen from the Marion Harper Cotton Oil company on February 7.

LOCAL BAKERY FIRM BUYS KNOXVILLE PLANT

Acquisition of a bakery plant in Knoxville, Tenn., by the American Bakeries company, with headquarters in Atlanta, was reported Tuesday by local officials. The Knoxville plant is the Robert Baker company and operated by Charles R. Roberts, who will continue as the head for the present, the American Bakeries company officials stated.

The acquisition of the Knoxville plant gives the American Bakeries company a total of 19 plants, which are located in the following cities: Atlanta, two plants; Birmingham, Jacksonville, Chattanooga, Rome, Ga., Macon, Gadsden, Ala., Wilmington, N. C., Winston-Salem, N. C., High Point, N. C., Florence, S. C., Fayetteville, N. C., Orlando, Fla., Miami, Charlotte, N. C., New Orleans, Anderson, S. C., and the latest in Knoxville.

Judge Humphries Named President Of Code Society

Judge John D. Humphries, of the Fulton superior court, was elected president of the children's code commission, of Georgia, at a meeting of that body held Tuesday afternoon in the office of Governor L. G. Hardman. Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, retiring president, presided at the session. Mrs. Richardson was asked to serve as a member of a special advisory committee to be named later which will be composed of representatives of leading child welfare agencies of the state.

Miss Josephine Wilkins, of Atlanta, was elected secretary to succeed Dr. W. L. Funkhouser and J. R. L. Smith, of Macon, was named treasurer.

Reports of the year's work were submitted by Mrs. Richardson and were approved by the commission. Legislation to be proposed at the approaching session of the state legislature will be placed in the hands of the executive committee, which is composed of the officers of the commission.

Members of the commission are Judge John D. Humphries, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Dr. W. L. Funkhouser, Emmet Quinn, Mrs. H. G. Hastings, all of Atlanta; W. C. L. Neill, Columbus; L. S. Peckles, Jr., Augusta; Judge R. E. Tiffin; J. R. L. Smith, Macon; Mrs. Albert Foster, Madison and Miss Josephine Wilkins, Atlanta.

Sibley Fines 21.

A total of 21 fines ranging from $10 up to $100 were assessed by Judge Sibley in United States court here Tuesday for alleged violations of the prohibition law. Pleas of guilty were entered in most cases and the majority of defendants had already received a sentence in the state courts.

SEWARD M. SMITH IS SERIOUSLY ILL AT JACKSONVILLE

Seward M. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the state highway board, was unable to attend a session of that body held Tuesday due to his serious illness, it was announced by John N.

Hilder, chairman. Mr. Smith is in a hospital in Jacksonville, Fla., suffering with a severe attack of influenza, according to the announcement. Mr. Smith, together with two prominent citizens of Clinch county, recently was indicted by the Clinch county grand jury in connection with an appropriation made by the county for the purpose of conducting legal action in certain highway matters. The board was ready Tuesday to give consideration to the case. Information was given the board that the charge against Mr. Smith grew out of a local political factional fight in Clinch county. The board was informed that the alleged fee of $1,500 for legal services was never paid to Mr. Smith and that he at no time accepted any extra remuneration for services rendered in conducting highway litigation.

RADIO LA 60 SUPER HETERODYNE

The one receiver
that is built for all
broadcasting conditions

The Radiola Super-Heterodyne, because of its unique characteristics, is the one receiver that can be depended upon to give fine performance under the most exacting conditions.

The Super-Heterodyne, because of its selectivity and sensitivity, provides dependable reception in locations close to broadcast transmitters, as well as at great distances.

This is because it is built on the same principle as the sensitive radio compass, and the receivers used in the big broadcasting stations and in radio marine stations.

The most famous product of the associated laboratories of RCA, General Electric and Westinghouse, the Radiola Super-Heterodyne is everywhere recognized as the finest achievement of the radio art.

RCA RADIO LA 60—Table model of the incomparable RCA Super-Heterodyne. Finest receiver of its type ever designed. Super-selective. Super-sensitive. A. C. house current operation. $147 (less Radiotrons).

RCA LOUDSPEAKER 103—A magnetic type reproducer of unrivalled quality, for use with Radiola 60 or any fine receiver. $37.50.

Take Care of Your Kidneys

Don't Neglect Kidney and Bladder Irregularities.

HAS grip or flu left you stiff, achy—all worn out? Feel tired and drowsy—suffer nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells? Are the kidney excretions too frequent, scanty or burning? Too often this indicates sluggish kidneys and shouldn't be neglected.

Thousands rely on Doan's Pills. Doan's, a stimulant diuretic, increase the activity of the kidneys and assist in the elimination of waste impurities. Are endorsed everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Harry Norton, 5916 S. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill., says: "After a severe cold, the kidney excretions passed too frequently and contained sediment. I had dizzy spells, headaches and felt tired most of the time. I felt stiff and lame, too, and could hardly straighten because of the soreness across my back. The use of Doan's Pills brought me quick relief and I must speak well of them."

The national plane from Miami was forced down by bad weather at McRae, Ga.

N. S. Noble, city editor of The Constitution, made a flight to Chicago Tuesday in a mail plane of Interstate Airlines, Inc., and thereby witnessed the establishing of two new records between Candler field and the mid-western metropolis. Flying from Atlanta to Evansville, Ind., with Pilot Gene Ericks, he saw former records for that distance broken and then, transferring to a plane piloted by Al McKenna, had a part-as passenger in the setting of a new made for the Evansville-Chicago hop. Flying time for the entire flight was four hours and 46 minutes. Good weather was reported all the way, except for slight fogs over the Georgia and Tennessee mountains.

Two air mail lines operating into and out of Atlanta registered substantial gains in poundage for February and two others showed slight losses. It was revealed in postoffice figures received in Atlanta Tuesday. The Indianapolis route, operated by the Atlanta-Miami route, operated by Pittman Aviation, Inc., which gained from 6,064 pounds in January to 10,291 in February, and the Atlanta-Chicago route, operated by Interstate Airlines, Inc., which showed a gain of from 6,438 pounds to 7,104 pounds. The New York-Atlanta route, operated by Pittman Aviation, Inc., gained from 21,490 pounds for January to 18,537 pounds, while the Atlanta-New Orleans line, operated by Gulf Airlines, fell from 4,462 to 3,125 pounds.

Colonel W. G. Schauffler, general manager of Interstate Airlines, Inc., operators of the Atlanta-Chicago route, was in Atlanta Tuesday following his attendance on the conference in Washington Monday relative to the formation of a radio network for air.

If Alertox Fails in High Blood Pressure —Call a Doctor

High blood pressure is both functional and organic, often produced by overeating or mental strain, while constipation and biliousness are both underlying causes. In either case, Alertox, through a process of elimination, thoroughly cleanses the system of its impurities and tends to reduce pressure in the veins and arteries by carrying out through the intestinal tract excess water in the system which the sweat glands have failed to secrete.

After the first dose or two of Alertox you note a decided improvement in reduced blood pressure, also in your general health, because Alertox removes, in one action, more poison bile from the system than any other known formula, leaving you buoyant, vivacious and alert. Alertox also alkalizes the system and thoroughly cleanses it of the poisons that cause auto-intoxication. Ask any one who has tried it. Your druggist has Alertox; if not, send direct upon receipt of price, 60c and $1.00. Alertox, Inc., Atlanta, Ga.

with the Hobard lumber interests, owners of practically all of the swamp land," Senator Harris said.

Senator Harris pointed out that the preservation of the Okefenokee will be helpful to the movement for the digging of the proposed St. Mary's-St. Mark's canal, across southeast Georgia and northwest Florida.

"I am hopeful that the canal will be built within the coming few years, possibly being the next consideration after the construction of the Nicaragua canal which is being so urgently advocated."

He referred to the importance of reforestation, the coming development of the paper industry in Georgia, and aid for naval stores interests.

"The meeting was very gratifying to those interested in the preservation of the Okefenokee," Senator Harris said, "and he was unavoidably prevented from attending, but urged that a permanent organization, covering the entire southeast in scope, be formed to look for federal preservation of the Okefenokee. "It is in the class with Yellowstone park and the Mammoth Cave, already acquired by the government," Mr. Haden said in his telegram.

C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, who had been invited to speak at the meeting, wired that he was unavoidably prevented from attending, but urged that a permanent organization, covering the entire southeast in scope, be formed to look for federal preservation of the Okefenokee. "It is in the class with Yellowstone park and the Mammoth Cave, already acquired by the government," Mr. Haden said in his telegram.

mail operators. He announced that on April 1 a change would be effected in the schedule of the southbound Chicago-Atlanta air mail plane, calling for its arrival in Atlanta at 6:25 p. m. instead of the present time of 4:30 p. m. The plane will leave Chicago at 9 a. m., as at present, but will remain over at Nashville from 1:50 p. m. to 3:45 p. m., in order to allow Nashville banks to clear their checks before the departure of the air mail.

Airways operators whose planes do most of the scheduled flying with mail, freight and passengers have joined together to establish a system of radio stations supplementing the existing wide network being installed by the airways division of the department of commerce. Their purpose is to furnish for themselves additional radio safeguards to air navigation besides those offered by the government, which primarily are the transmission of weather reports, beacon signals and radio compass bearings.

The federal radio commission is expected to authorize grants that will enable the air transport men to proceed with plans for establishing their own private cooperative radio system. The plans have been drawn up by a committee headed by Thomas J. Steyer, of Boeing Air Transport company, and including Herbert Hoover, Jr., who is about to leave Washington for Los Angeles to join the Western Air Express as a technical aide. Eighty-nine wave lengths have been set aside for American aviation. The operators propose to erect their own stations at key points for two-way communications with planes in flight, and services not afforded by the government, such as plane dispatching, will be furnished by their own stations.

The first link in the department of commerce radio network extends from Hadley Field, N. J., to Bellefonte, Pa., and then to Cleveland along the transcontinental airway, from which point it soon will be extended to the Pacific coast. Other government stations will be in operation early in the summer at St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, Los Angeles, LaCrosse, Wis., Medford, Ore.; Portland, Ore., and Seattle. In addition to these, the government has projected but has not begun work on stations at Boston, Richmond, Greensboro, Spartanburg, Atlanta and Miami, which should furnish an Atlantic coast radio chain before the end of the year. Applications also have been made for 18 to 20 more stations, the sites for which remain undecided.

HARRIS SAYS NATION TO BUY OKEFENOKEE

Waycross, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—That the Okefenokee, educational, recreational and scenic wonderland of southeast Georgia, will soon become a federal reservation and will be preserved in its present state to posterity, was the emphatic statement made here today by Senator William J. Harris, principal speaker at a conference called by the Waycross and Ware County Chamber of Commerce and the Southeast Georgia Cooperative association, to discuss effective means of furthering the Okefenokee preservation movement.

The conference, attended by state leaders and many prominent south Georgians, including the editors of a number of daily and weekly newspapers in this section of the state, was presided over by Jack Williams, editor of the Waycross Journal-Herald, who welcomed the Okefenokee enthusiasts to Waycross. The meeting opened at 11 o'clock at the Lyric theater.

Senator Harris, who came to Waycross Monday night after speaking at Statesville, at Echols county superior court, was introduced by D. M. Parker, former member of the Georgia legislature.

Peter S. Twitty, Georgia state fish and game commissioner, also was a speaker, showing in connection with his address, five reels of motion pictures of animal life, natural scenes and concrete results of the animal conservation and propagation movement in Georgia.

"The saving of the Okefenokee is a business matter, and we are trying to further the preservation campaign in a businesslike way," Senator Harris said as a preface to his address.

Two Means.

"There are two means of accomplishing our purpose, and there is not the slightest doubt in my own mind but that the Okefenokee will be bought by the federal government at an early date, either through the recently formed migratory bird commission, or through the national forest reservation commission."

Mr. Harris, who introduced a bill at the past session of congress proposing the purchase of the Okefenokee territory embracing approximately 700 square miles of southeast Georgia land, explained that the passage of the migratory bird law during the last several days of congress was extremely fortunate in the plan for the saving of the Okefenokee.

"It simply means that we will not have to wait for the long process which would be necessitated in getting a bill through both branches of congress, but that we are now in a position to make valuable steps in our Okefenokee plans," he said.

Bill Provisions.

The Norbeck bill, which is designed to establish a bird sanctuary in every state in the union, empowers the commission of seven men to make purchases for this purpose. On this commission are two senators, two members of the lower house of congress, the secretary of war, the secretary of the interior and secretary of agriculture.

"I am confident that the twelve congressmen from Georgia will be undivided in their effort to secure a sanctuary for Georgia and that they will agree unanimously on the Okefenokee as the logical place for the preserve," Senator George and I will lend every effort to the cause. Knowing the natural fitness of the Okefenokee, I feel that we will be one of the first states in which a sanctuary will be designated. The commission has been given an appropriation of $200,000 for the first year; next year it will be increased to $800,000; for the year following it will be increased to probably a million dollars."

The senator pointed out that the national forest reservation committee, of which he is a member, also recognized the wonderful possibilities of the Okefenokee, and that this commission offers an opportunity for the federal government's acquiring the swamp.

"There is absolutely no doubt that the United States will buy the swamp, under one of the above commissions, if satisfactory arrangements can be made

DAUGHERTY DENIES GREEN HOUSE VISITS

Former Attorney General
Says He Is Going To Do
Some Talking.

Sarasota, Fla., March 12.—(P)—Commenting today on a letter he addressed to the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch, Harry M. Daugherty, former United States attorney general, said he intended some day to make the true facts known about the reasons for the "birth of the story of the little green house."

Daugherty, who is wintering here, talked at length about the letter which he said he wrote in answer to an article published by the Dispatch in which "the little green house" was mentioned. The article was purported to have been written by Louis Ludlow, former newspaperman and now a congressman. Daugherty said, but added that he had been advised by United States Senator James E. Watson that this had been denied by Ludlow.

"There will be some authentic publicity with the approval of myself," said Daugherty. "It will be in due time. That will give the truth to the country, if it is interested about all of these things now that there is a change of administration at Washington."

The story of "the little green house," he said, "was constructed on a foundation of falsehood, of material of calumny and painted with the green saliva of slander."

Daugherty expressed bitterness toward Samuel Hopkins Adams, author of a book, "Revelry."

PRINCE OF WALES AMUSED WHEN ELEVATOR STALLS

London, March 12.—(P)—The Prince of Wales had a good laugh today when he and his party were trapped for several minutes in an elevator which stalled between two floors of the Trunk Line Telephone Exchange building.

The prince was starting a tour of the building and entered the elevator on the ground floor. It shot upward with its load of nine persons but stopped suddenly when half between the second and third floors. It was at least two minutes before the operator could coax the car to resume its journey. Those in the prince's party said that he was much amused at the experience.

YOUTH IS JAILED AS POLICE PROBE ROBBERY SERIES

Questioned by detectives in connection with a series of robberies in West End recently, Melvin Robinson, 17, of 713 Bonhoe Brax avenue, was locked up on charges of suspicion Tuesday night, while Herbert Gossett, 11, of 267 Fifth street, was released by Detectives Austin and Armstrong, who indicated that they would use the Gossett youth's testimony in the trial of Robinson.

The two boys were arrested after the officers had found candle grease on the trousers of the youths. They said that in a number of the burglaries in the West End section, candle drippings had been found on the floors of the stores robbed. Robinson and Gossett were arrested Tuesday in a vacant store at 535 Whitehall street, where they were gathering wooden drum heads for use as toy wagon wheels.

PITTMAN BID LOW Committee Recommends Pro- posal for Sewer.

C. A. Pittman Construction company was recommended as the low bidder Tuesday afternoon for the White street trunk sewer at a figure of $211,589.

Members of the sewer committee recommended the bid and it will go to city council at its regular meeting Monday for approval.

Completion of the contract will close the largest uncovered sewer in Atlanta. It is one of the largest sewer jobs contemplated from the 1926 bond issue.

Thomas Debate.

Thomasville, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—At the Thomas county high school meet, to be held next week in Ochlocknee, there will be a debate, the subject being "Resolved, That Rural Schools of Thomas County Should Be Consolidated."

CLARENCE CALHOUN NAMED CHAIRMAN OF MERGER BODY

Clarence Calhoun was named chairman of the Fulton-DeKalb central merger committee, at a meeting held Tuesday night. L. J. Cassels was selected as treasurer, and Roy A. Brooks as secretary.

Organization of the central group will be the signal for beginning actual work in organizing the 18 districts of DeKalb county in the drive to force over a referendum for the annexation, it was announced.

A large number of interested citizens attended the meeting held at the residence of Mr. Calhoun, who is a prominent attorney.

J. R. Bachman, former member of the Atlanta city council, who was tendered the post as chairman, could not accept he explained because of pressing business matters which demanded his entire attention at this time. He promised unstinted cooperation.

Fifty Jacket Grid Players Out for Drill

Alexander Puts Men Through Limbering Up Exercises at Tech Flats.

Some fifty husky lads donned their football togs yesterday afternoon at the Georgia Tech flats under the direction of Coach Alexander for the first workout of the spring practice period.

The drill took the form of a session in limbering up and in an explanation of the Tech system to the members of the squad who came up from the ranks of the freshman team, with illustrations by the old hands of the crew.

Alexander had postponed the work until yesterday because of the weather which prevailed at the early part of last week, but the prospect was not to be balked, as he got on his job and sent rain after several days of clear skies. The grid was put on as scheduled, however, and Alex intends to get his five weeks' work in with Tuesday's practice as the starter.

The quarterback problem occupied the attention of the coaching staff for a time Tuesday, and several men took their posts in the formation used by the Jackets this past season. Collins, Pippin and Russell were a few of those who backed into the work, but neither Frink nor Dunlap, two lads who have been prominently mentioned for the post, were able to forego their work on the diamond for the football turnout, and were not out to take their part.

Don Miller, who recently signed a contract to report to Ohio State for coaching duty with the Buckeye backfield in the fall, had at first intended to work with the Tornado during the spring grid, but changed his plans, and will not be on the field at the flats during the sessions.

A CRACKER A DAY

To day Joe Kiefer, Pitcher
By Ben Rothman

This is Joe Kiefer who, so they'll tell you at Spiller's, is going to win 20 or more baseball games for the Crackers this year through his right-handed efforts on the mound during the forthcoming summer.

The big fellow—he is around six feet and weighs 180 pounds—is in good shape, goes about his work seriously and if his record means anything, should make one of the Crackers' best hurlers.

He came into the world somewhere in West Leyden county, New York, July 19, 1899, which is a little over 29 years ago. He played baseball with the other lads of his neighborhood until 1919 when he turned professional and played with Utica, in the New York State league. He stayed there a year and the Chicago White Sox bought him. He was given a trial there and then farmed to Muskegon, Mich. That fall the Sox recalled him and the next summer Joe found himself in Milwaukee, the beer center. From Milwaukee he went to Sioux City and finished the year of 1921.

The season of 1922 found Kiefer in the south when he pitched that summer for Charleston in the old South Atlantic league. He went from there to Bay City, Mich. Then Kiefer broke into the majors again, being purchased by the Boston Red Sox and played there a half season, being sent to Jersey City in the International.

Then in 1927 Wichita Falls bought the big fellow and he was one of the best hurlers in the loop. The oil town nine kept him and last year he had a record of 14 games won and six lost and hopes to do much better than that this year.

Claude Herrin, Petrel Star, Is Ineligible

Athlete Fails To Make Required Grades and Is Ruled Off Baseball Squad.

BY CY BELL.

Oglethorpe's baseball stock took a decided drop Tuesday afternoon when announcement was made by the faculty that Claude Herrin, three-letter man, was ineligible for baseball this season.

This means that the Stormy Petrels will be minus the service of this stellar athlete during the coming diamond campaign. However, he will be eligible for next fall's football team provided he makes up his grades.

Herrin, who had put in only one day's work on the diamond getting in shape for the 1929 race, is one of Oglethorpe's outstanding athletes. He has won letters in football, basketball and baseball and was seeking a track letter. Had he gained his letter on the cinder path he would have been the first four-letter man at the university. During his practice Monday he knocked two triples and a double in a practice game.

This is a severe blow to Frank Anderson's ball team and his post at third will be hard to fill. Anderson rates Herrin as one of the greatest third basemen ever to don a Petrel uniform and he knows his baseball. Jay Partridge, former Brooklyn player, and other stellar performers have come up under the guidance of Anderson.

Bout Date Changed.

Los Angeles, March 12.—(P)—The junior lightweight championship bout between Tod Morgan, titleholder, and Santiago Zorrilla, San Blas Indian, will be held here April 2 instead of April 9, as previously announced.

Anti-Shock Club For Golfers

Chicago, March 12.—(P)—Anti-shock iron and clubs that add from 40 to 50 yards to the average player's shots are the latest achievements claimed by golf manufacturers. They are being displayed at Chicago's golf show this week.

The anti-shock clubs are faintly reminiscent of the "rubber suspension" of automobile motors. In the joint between the shaft and head of the irons, a sheet of rubber is inserted. Manufacturers claim this eliminates the shock of impact, insures more accurate approaches, soothes ragged nerves and saves the hands from callouses.

Calvary Is Victor In S.S.A.A. Playoff

Building its attack around the elongated center, John Lewis, Calvary, with a sudden stroke in the middle of the second half which carried it to a 10-point lead, captured the 1929 championship of the S. S. A. A. with a 20-to-10 triumph over Triple E class, Tuesday night at the Tech court.

For the first half the teams fought evenly, though Calvary gained a lead of 8 to 5 just before the intermission. Lewis, the scoring ace, had gained 4 points. But Calvary struck with all its might for a few minutes of the second half, and went far into the lead and checked a determined opponent attack in the last part. All told Lewis made 11 points, which is about six more than any individual has garnered in the entire championship series.

Racer Zooms At 190-Mile Clip in Test

Mechanic Will Pilot Auto If He Can Convince A. A. A. He Is Capable.

BY T. R. GILL.

Associated Press Staff Writer.
Ocean Speedway, Daytona Beach, Fla., March 12.—(P)—Intermittent rain squalls and extremely poor visibility late today caused postponement until tomorrow of the automobile speed trials of Lee Bible, Daytona Beach mechanic, after he had made two fast test runs over the ocean speedway here in the 36-cylinder Triplex owned by J. M. White, of Philadelphia.

Bible, who has not yet been approved by A. A. A. as a driver of the giant trimotored creation, clipped off 170 miles an hour on his first run, and on his second trial boosted his speed up to 190. His speed for the one kilometer on his last run, however, was clocked at 193 miles an hour, showing that the car still was gaining momentum when it crossed the measured mile.

Must Prove Competency.
The 42-year-old mechanic, who never has driven a race car except at small dirt tracks in Florida, has been selected by the A. A. A. to drive the Triplex, but officials of the A. A. A. said they would not permit him to shoot at the world's record until he had made several preliminary test trials to demonstrate to them that he was a competent driver of such a high speed car.

Val Haresnape, secretary of the association, board of the automobile association, said he would allow Bible to make several runs at fast speed and if the driver handled the car satisfactorily he would approve Bible's application for membership in the association, which was filed only yesterday.

The Triplex, which weighs about four tons, held the record of 207.55 miles an hour until yesterday, when Major H. O. D. Segrave, of England, boosted the mark up to the astounding speed of 231 in his trim, streamlined Golden Arrow machine.

Sgrave to Try Again.

Major Segrave said today he felt confident his powerful car was capable of a speed of at least 240 miles an hour and that if ideal beach and weather conditions prevail tomorrow he would make another trial, then with the hope of surpassing his own mark.

Unless conditions are absolutely ideal tomorrow, however, the veteran English driver said he would have to give up the plan definitely as he expects to leave here Friday to go to Miami for the Biscayne Bay regatta. He has brought to this country his powerful speed boat, "Miss England," and hopes to better the world's water record of 92.8 miles an hour now held by "Miss America VII," owned by Gar Good, of Detroit.

After his two runs today, Bible said he had the giant Triplex under control at all times and that he was certain he could prove to the automobile association officials his competency as a driver of the machine. On his first run over the beach, Bible ran through the edge of the surf at several points along the beach, but on his second trial north, selected a course a little higher on the beach.

Keeps Close to Water.

Bible said his object in keeping the car so close to the water on his first run was because he found the sand harder and the car did not encounter as much slippage there as it did higher on the beach where the sand was soft.

As the huge iron steed flashed by the grandstand on each of its runs, great clouds of black smoke from the exhaust pipe curled up behind it, but the motors appeared to function perfectly. The frequent rain squalls made the visibility poorer and it was impossible to see the machine approaching down the beach until it was about three-quarters of a mile away. Because of the bad weather, only a few thousand spectators were on hand to witness the trials, as contrasted with the crowd of approximately 30,000 which witnessed Major Segrave send his powerful machine to the new record yesterday.

Segrave Sees Trial.

The British driver and his wife witnessed the trials of the Triplex today, but left immediately afterward because of the inclement weather. He would make no comment on the performance of White's machine.

H. A. Patterson, Daytona Beach policeman, who hopes to break the world's motorcycle speed record, made two runs over the beach after the Triplex had been towed from the course, but was forced to postpone further trials until tomorrow, because of the rain. His fastest speed was 114 miles an hour, 17 miles slower than the present record held by Johnny Seymour, of Indianapolis.

Low tide tomorrow will be about 4 o'clock and both White and Patterson said they would have their machines on the beach for further trials about an hour and a half before that time.

Southern Pines Golf Tourney Set, March 28-29

Southern Pines, N. C., March 12.—(P)—Arrangements have been completed here for the holding of the Southern Pines invitation tournament for women to be played over the Southern Pines Country club course March 28 and 29.

Among the entries are Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., national women's champion; Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago; Miss Helen Hicks, of Hewlett Park, L. I., sensation of the recent Florida tournaments, and Miss Maureen Orcutt.

This Family Knows Its Basketball Game

Bradenton, Fla., March 12.—(P)—Hal Rhyne, shortstop from the San Francisco club, has revealed some family history at the Red Sox camp. Rhyne has seven older brothers and an older sister, all of whom play baseball. As a complete family team they held their own with the best in the neighborhood and the sister was by no means the least effective member of the nine.

CARTER BARRON.

Members of the teams here for The Constitution G. I. A. A. basketball tournament starting this afternoon will be the guests of Carter Barron, former Georgia Tech football star and manager of the Metropolitan theater, at a special performance Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Much entertainment has been arranged by Mr. Barron for the visiting cagers as well as the members of the five Atlanta teams. "Marriage by Contract" is the feature picture playing at the Metropolitan this week, while special vitaphone acts and other features are on the bill.

Last night a large number of visiting players were hosts of Tom James, manager of the Capitol theater, at an evening performance.

Jack Dempsey Hears Offers For Services

New York, March 12.—(P)—William Harrison Dempsey, boxing promoter, discussed his future today with both the executive committee of the Madison Square Garden corporation and Humbert J. Fugazy, metropolitan rival of the organization Tex Rickard build. After the day of debate the former heavyweight champion was very little closer to definite plans for the future.

Dempsey said the garden proposition, which would include the former fighter in the organization as a vice president in charge of boxing at a yearly salary, could be viewed only as a basis for future negotiations. He has no idea whether these will take place, although he plans further discussion with William F. Carey, vice president and guiding hand in the corporation's affairs.

The offer of Fugazy, made on a cash basis, was unsatisfactory, he said, but will be revised and submitted to him at a later date.

"I have three propositions in mind," Dempsey said, "one of my own, one from the garden and the third from Fugazy. There are many details to be ironed out before I can really sit down and consider seriously any of them."

Marion Opens Baseball Season This Friday

Marion, Ala., March 12.—(Special).—The Cadets of Marion institute will open their baseball season here Friday and Saturday of this week, when they play the Jackson Aggies. Several stars of last season will be missing, but there is a great lot of new material from which Coach Williams hopes to mold a strong team.

Football Coach Wins Florida Golf Match

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12.—(P)—Defeat of E. P. Allis, Wisconsin amateur champion, by T. J. Davies, football coach of the University of Rochester, featured the opening round of match play in the annual city championship golf tournament today at the Juggle.

A 10-foot putt on the nineteenth hole gave Davies a victory over Allis, who was medalist.

Georgia Grid Squad To Play In Scrimmage

Better Weather Allows Coach Mehre To Put Men Through Harder Tests.

Athens, Ga., March 12.—(Special). With the advent of better weather conditions Coach Harry Mehre's spring football practice at the University of Georgia has lived up more than a little bit. It now seems likely that the first scrimmage will be held Saturday.

Most of the practice thus far has been concerned with fundamentals and most of the time has been devoted to training the freshman team graduates the sophomores of next fall upon whom so much will inevitably depend. Losing half of the 1928 lettermen has led the Georgia coaches to cast quite a few glances in the direction of the green grid.

Large crowds have been turning out for the daily workouts, the number reaching as high as 50 or 85 on some days. Some of the hopefuls have never been heard of before and some others have had years of experience but have never crashed through.

Although no scrimmage has yet been held, rough work has been the order for several days. Tackling, blocking, boxing tackles, and various other means of hitting the dirt have been engaged in. Assisting Coach Mehre are the following: Chick Shiver, end coach; Frank Thomas, newly elected backfield coach, replacing Jimmy Crowley; and Frank Dudley, starback for the past three years, who is taking his first shot at the coaching business.

On the other side of Sanford field Bill White is daily rounding his battery men and batsmen into form. No trouble is expected from the veteran infield, which last year came through with one of the highest fielding averages of any college team in the south. Sophomores are likely to cause some consternation among the varsity nine. Especially mentionable are Carrithers and Frye, two star pitchers, who are being looked to for replacing Jack Walker and Lefty Stewart, last year's twirlers, who graduated.

Wilkins, Twice Polar Hero, Receives Formal Welcome On Return From Aerial Trip

New York Accords Explorer and Pilot of Plane Great Greeting on Arrival.

New York, March 12.—(AP)—Twice a polar hero, Sir Hubert Wilkins today received his second formal welcome in New York. This time on his return from aerial exploration in the antarctic.

A year ago he and Lieutenant Carl B. Eielson, his chief pilot, were received after their flight across the arctic. Today the two adventurers, with Joe E. Crosson, relief pilot, and Orville H. Porter, a mechanic, were greeted as successful explorers of part of the vast continent at the bottom of the world.

Welcoming ceremonies began when the liner Ebro nosed into its Hoboken pier with the four men from South America. The reception continued in a meeting with Mayor Walker at city hall, and closed at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, where the airman are staying.

Among those to greet Sir Hubert was Miss Suzanne Bennett, actress, who has announced her engagement to the explorer. Their greeting was cordial but without demonstration of affection. When photographers attempted to promote a hugging scene Sir Hubert put it down with an emphatic "no," adding, when he was asked about the engagement:

"I feel like Lindbergh about that sort of thing."

After being met aboard ship by a city committee, Sir Hubert handed a report to Dr. John H. Finley, president of the American Geographical society, telling of the expedition's discovery of the Graham Land in the Antarctic is a series of islands rather than part of the south polar continent as had been believed.

Luncheon for the party was served aboard ship after which the airman motored through the tunnel under the Hudson river to city hall where the city's formal welcome took place, cameramen photographed the fliers and the mayor, and later Sir Hubert's group posed on the steps of city hall with the organized veterans of the blizzard of 1888.

Although he did not disclose his plans for the immediate future, Sir Hubert made it plain that he had not finished his work in the antarctic. Increasing mild weather and consequent poor conditions for takeoff and landing of planes forced return of the expedition, but the explorers hope to go back to the antarctic in September. An effort will be made to cross the antarctic continent, and site for a south polar weather station will be considered. Sir Hubert said he had such a site in mind, but would attempt to find one still more desirable for the establishment of one of 12 stations which the Geographical society is placing throughout the world.

HAVERTY TO OPEN DECATUR STORE; TOUCHTON IS HEAD

Lease of a store in the Watkins building, 112 East Ponce de Leon avenue, Decatur, by the Haverty Furniture company for location of a Decatur branch of the large furniture chain store organization, was disclosed Tuesday.

G. D. TOUCHTON.

closed Tuesday by G. D. Touchton, who will be in charge of the new store.

The Decatur store will constitute the eighteenth unit of the Haverty chain, which is one of the largest organizations of its kind in the nation, and has headquarters in Atlanta. The Decatur store will maintain the same policies in vogue in the main Atlanta store, Mr. Touchton stated, the purpose of establishing the branch being to increase the convenience of the company's service in this section.

The store is being remodeled for opening this Saturday, when arrangements will be made to welcome visitors, including presentation of souvenirs.

Mr. Touchton is well known in Decatur, being a resident of that community and a member of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce. He is an experienced executive and an authority on home furnishings. Opening of the Decatur store marks the latest expansion of the Haverty Furniture company, which was founded 44 years ago by J. J. Haverty, president.

Gress Will Ask U. S. To Assist Client in Havana

T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general, will leave Atlanta at noon today for Washington, D. C., to appear before the state department to seek relief for a client who recently won the right to show an American motion picture in Havana, Cuba, in a decision of the Cuban supreme court. Since the court decision, Mayor Gomez, of the city of Havana, has declined to permit the exhibition of the picture.

The situation in Cuba developed through adoption of an order which prohibited showing of any picture to crowds of men only or women only. The decision of the supreme court overruled this order and permitted showing of the picture. When the owner of the picture, an American citizen, attempted to show the picture, the mayor of Havana stopped him and declared he would be taken into custody if any attempt were made to display the picture in Havana.

FUND TO ASSIST STATE'S SCHOOLS IS PAID IN FULL

The state of Georgia has paid in full the 1922 equalization fund for the aid of common schools of the state, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Sam J. Slate, state auditor.

In addition the state has paid more than $100,000 on the fund for 1923. The payment of the 1922 funds was completed in three installments paid since January 1, 1923.

JOHNSTON UNDERGOES CROSS-EXAMINATION

Governor Matches Wits With Prosecutors in Impeachment Trial.

Oklahoma City, March 12.—(AP)—Matching wits with his prosecutors Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor of Oklahoma, underwent a day of cross-examination here today in his trial before the senate court of impeachment.

A multitude of state matters were touched on in the questions of John Head, chairman of the state house of representatives board of managers, which is seeking the removal of Johnston on charges of impeachment voted by the house.

In the course of his examination, Johnston declared he broke with two of his strongest supporters in the campaign of 1920, after he was elected governor, because they expected to wield too much influence in his administration. He said he parted friendship with Ed M. Semans, of Oklahoma City, because he suspected Semans of wielding a monopoly in the writing of bonds for state projects. Johnston "froze up" on Hubert Bolen, the other supporter, he said, when a New York bank offered to make Bolen its Oklahoma representative in return for the transference of the Oklahoma fiscal agency to that bank.

The suspended governor said he was not aware that James Armstrong, whom he later made a confidant, represented a number of companies doing business with the state, as legal representative. Armstrong is an uncle of Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, until recently Johnston's confidential secretary. The prosecution has centered its attack on the part played by Mrs. Hammonds in various state affairs. Operations of both the senate court and the investigating committee of the house of representatives were impeded temporarily today by a decision of the state supreme court which held they were without authority to employ additional help unless the help was provided for specifically in appropriations. House investigating activities were stopped and the senate hastily passed a bill legalizing the employment of its court help.

TWO GEORGIA PLANTS SOLD FOR LOW FIGURE

Macon, Ga., March 12.—(AP)—Two Wilkinson county manufacturing enterprises, with appraised valuations totaling in excess of $600,000, were sold at auction today for $157,500.

The Georgia Brick company, worth approximately a quarter-million dollars, was sold for $150,000, and the Plymote Paper company, appraised at $250,000, was auctioned off for only $7,500. The former, sold to satisfy a first mortgage of $200,000, was purchased by C. B. Reynolds, of Cleveland, Ohio, representing the court's legal holder, Mr. Reynolds is trustee. That sale was held by W. E. Swinson, special commissioner, before the courthouse door in Irwinville. There were no bidders.

The law firm of Jones, Jones, Johnston & Russell, of Macon, today filed in United States district court a petition for confirmation of the sale of the brick plant. Scott Russell, member of the law firm, said he could not say just what would be done at the plant, but indicated that possibly it will be returned to full time operation. It has been operating part time for some months, it was said. It is one of the most modern plants of its kind in the south.

The Plymote Paper company was auctioned off to Lizzie Bashinski, of Dublin. There were two bidders, the other one offering $5,000 for the property. The unsuccessful bidder represented bondholders, it was said. J. N. McCaw, as trustee, supervised the sale, and the property was auctioned by Warren Grice, member of the local law firm of Hall, Grice & Bloch. The plant was offered free of all encumbrances. It was said, with the exception of taxes. Some doubt was expressed as to whether this sale will be confirmed.

Outstanding obligations of the company are said to total around $150,000.

National Overseas League President To Visit Atlanta

Miss Lena Hitchcock, of Washington, D. C., national president of the Women's Overseas Service League, arrives Saturday to spend the week-end with Mrs. John T. Toler at her home in the Blackstone apartments on Peachtree street. During her visit Miss Hitchcock will be the recipient of a number of social courtesies, the first to be a luncheon party at which members of the local overseas club will entertain Saturday at Brookhaven, the Capital City Country club.

Miss Hitchcock has served as president of this national organization for the past two years, succeeding Mrs. G. M. Mankin, formerly Miss Helen Douglas, of Atlanta, who served for two years in this capacity. Miss Hitchcock is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia White Spell, of Washington, D. C., who is a national figure in General Federation of Women's Clubs and political circles. Miss Hitchcock is well known in the national capital's social realm, where she made her debut several years ago. Following her service in France during the world war, Miss Hitchcock served as president of the Washington unit of the Women's Overseas Service League. Miss Hitchcock's overseas record is one of brilliant achievement, she being one of the first group of 13 occupational aides went abroad in 1918.

While in France Miss Hitchcock was stationed at Base Hospital No. 9, Chateaufort, from July, 1918, until January 19, when she was sent to Base Hospital No. 8 at Savenay and in the latter part of February to Base Hospital No. 118 at Beau Desert, Bordeaux.

Immediately upon her return to America in June, 1919, Miss Hitchcock was ordered to Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., and made head aide, occupational therapist, remaining until March 4, 1920. Since leaving the army, Miss Hitchcock has continued as a volunteer worker with the disabled soldiers through the Women's Service League, by rendering every aid and assistance to the army.

VAPEX—wherever you are, whatever you are doing

VAPEX will stop a cold at the start. Its use is pleasant and refreshing. Put a drop on a handkerchief, breathe the healing vapor—instant relief. One application lasts for an entire day or night. A drop on both ends of your pillow at night will fight the cold as you sleep.

In the midst of the influenza epidemic a few employees of the famous firm of Thos. Kerfoot & Co., Ltd., kept steadily on with their laboratory experimenting, unaffected and in perfect health. The cause of this immunity was finally found in certain chemicals in the laboratory which gave off a vapor that actually killed the most common germs of colds. A new product, Vapex, was offered the public and quickly won a widespread demand in England and America.

Get a bottle of Vapex from your druggist. 50 treatments in every dollar bottle. Vapex is distributed by E. Fougere & Co., Inc., New York City.

Egleston Hospital Auxiliary Reports Feature Meeting

The auxiliary of the Henrietta Egleston Hospital for Children met at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the hospital on Forrest road, with Mrs. Frank Holland, the president, presiding.

A feature of the meeting was the reading by a little girl, 11-year-old Mary Elizabeth Barge, the "Secret of the Bambini." She told how, in the fifteenth century in Florence, Andrea Della Robbia designed this beautiful and appealing little child in swaddling clothes for the doorway of the Children's Foundling Hospital in Florence, Italy, and which ever since has been the seal and decoration of children's hospitals the world over, as it is used for the Egleston Hospital for Children today.

The auxiliary voted to change the fiscal year and it is now from January to January. Mrs. Paul Huffish, general chairman of sewing, reported sewing committees were at the hospital each day during the week, including Morningside Presbyterian church, Liberal Christian church, St. Paul's, and St. Catherine's. Miss Catherine Reese, of St. Catherine's guild, reported that the guild cleared $225 at the card party and fashion show given at the Biltmore recently, this sum paid up their pledge. The Peachtree Garden club and the Cherokee Garden club have made very liberal donations of shrubs, flowers and money and there have been quite a number of plants given as memorials. Joe Cranston Jones, the crippled boy who is such an artist with his silhouettes, gave a silhouette picture to St. Catherine's guild, which was sold for enough to buy a rolling chair for the hospital.

Breastmilk Station.

Mrs. J. E. Sommerfield, chairman of the breastmilk station, reported very active work for this department and stated that $200 had been given to this fund as well as a gift of $30 per month from the Fulton County Medical society. Miss Candlish stated that the hospital was sending milk every day to Marietta. There have been 175 patients to date and the hospital has become a member of the Georgia Hospital association. She also reported the following list of persons who had made valuable donations to the hospital during February: J. B. Henley, Marion Smith, Junior League, Mrs. T. C. Erwin, Mrs. Robert Moore, Oakhurst Presbyterian church, Circle No. 1, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Robert Alston, St. Philip's auxiliary, Mrs. E. C. Crichton, chairman; Mrs. Everett L. Bishop, Mrs. F. F. Lamons, Mrs. Howard McCall and Mrs. Dick. An Alpine lamp has been presented by an anonymous donor.

"The Wizard of Oz," which was given by the Junior League for the benefit of the hospital, was reported a financial success. A roll call showed the number of members of the auxiliary to date 507, a little over the half-way mark for a thousand members, which the auxiliary is now trying to secure.

Supplies Needed.

Miss Candlish, the superintendent, gave the following list of supplies needed for the hospital: oxygen tent for babies, complete dental equipment, covers for toys, glass tops for bedside tables, signs for driveways, special linens, stools for bathrooms, clock, small chairs and tables for convalescent children, dressing gowns and slippers for the larger patients, electric floor polishers, garden furniture for the convalescent children to use now that the weather is growing warmer.

Very interesting plans are being made for a pet animal parade to be given on the lawn of the hospital for the benefit of same. Mrs. Stacy Hill, assisted by committees from the auxiliary, will have charge of the plans. Mrs. Hill representing the Humane society. This will be given at the close of "Be Kind to Animal Week," April 20. More explicit announcement will be made later.

Women Voters Plan Candidates Luncheon.

Members of the get-out-the-vote committee of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, consisting of representatives from ten civic organizations, have been invited to attend, with members of their respective organizations, the candidates' luncheon to be given at the Henry Grady hotel Friday, March 15, at 12:30 o'clock under the auspices of the league. The organizations which have received invitations through their representatives are the chamber of commerce, the Lions' club, the junior chamber of commerce, the Secretaries' club, the Federation of Trades, the Civitan club, the Rotary club, the City club, the Masonic club.

The candidates' luncheon will be attended by many of the candidates offering for the office of commissioner of Fulton county, to be chosen at a special election March 20, and each one will be given an opportunity to make a brief statement. Among those candidates who have already made reservations are Edward H. Inman, Byron Bettis and A. R. King. In the absence of Mrs. W. F. Treary, league hospitality chairman, from the city, Mrs. A. W. Waldman, secretary of the Atlanta league, and member of the hospitality committee, will be in charge of arrangements for the luncheon. Reservations may be made at 75 cents a plate by calling league headquarters, Walnut 3472. Mrs. Alfred Bailey, president of the league, will preside at the luncheon, and a short talk on county government will be given by Mrs. Harry I. Greene, editor of Facts, league bulletin.

Humane Week Meeting Announced.

During humane week an animal welfare meeting will be held in Ampico hall, 193 Peachtree street, Wednesday evening, March 15, at 8 o'clock. Prominent workers and humane educators will speak, including Mrs. Katherine Weathersbee, field worker for the American Humane Education society, who will discuss "Humane Education." Mrs. Julia Woods Wagner, president of the Atlanta branch, American Anti-vivisection society, will talk on vivisection; George T. Bush, vice president of the Atlanta branch, will discuss "Our Opportunities and Possibilities" for the animal welfare work.

Other speakers include Miss Annette Applewhite, who assisted actively in animal welfare work in England, Holland and Switzerland; J. A. Nimick, who will talk on "Fur Fabrics and the Steel Trap," and Adolphe Michel, who will talk on "Vegetarianism." A vocal selection will be given by Miss Lucile Price, soprano, assisted by Miss Mary Douglas, violinist, and Miss Anna Mae Farmer, accompanist. The details are in charge of Mrs. Anna Mae Nimick, animal welfare brother for the Theosophical Order of Service. The public is invited.

Mrs. P. H. Jeter Entertains at Club.

Mrs. P. H. Jeter was hostess Tuesday at a luncheon at the Druid Hills Golf club, complimenting Mrs. Charles Hinton, of Macon, the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Hinton.

Invited to meet the honor guest were Mesdames Marion Benson, C. W. Roberts, O. H. Matthews, Charles Waits, Allen Bunce, W. A. Selman, James N. Brawner, M. T. Edgerton and James Hinton.

Miss Brewer Weds John Francis Busbee.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Scott announce the marriage of their daughter, Mamie Esther Brewer, to John Francis Busbee, the ceremony having been solemnized March 10, by the Rev. R. C. Young, pastor of Jackson Hill Baptist church, at the home of Mrs. G. J. McWilliams, 819 Glendale terrace. After taking a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Busbee will be at home at 533 Forrest avenue, N. E., March 17.

Miss Bennett And Mr. Mitchell Are Wedded

The marriage of Miss Mabel Bennett, daughter of Mrs. O. R. Bennett, of Decatur, and Charles Mitchell was solemnized Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of Rev. Dr. A. J. Moncrief on Adams street in Decatur.

The ceremony was witnessed by a few close friends of the bride and groom's families. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left immediately after the marriage service for a motor trip through Florida. On their return they will be at home at 516 West College avenue in Decatur.

The bride's costume was an attractive model of rose beige crepe worn with a small tan felt hat. A shoulder bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies completed the ensemble.

TOOK CATHARTICS
EVERY NIGHT

Eating ALL-BRAN Relieved
Constipation

Everybody who is slave to cathartics and laxatives will be interested in this letter—

"I took cathartic pills every night and enemas daily to relieve myself and take away the awful headaches I was subject to. Two months ago I started eating a large bowl of your ALL-BRAN with cream for breakfast and today I am in fine condition, better than I have been in three years. My bowels are regular every day. I have not taken one cathartic pill in two months."—Mrs. A. J. O'Connell, 52 Phelps Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

Constipation gets in its deadly work when bulk is left out of the diet. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, however, will supply this bulk. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action. Two tablespoonsful daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and relieved constipation forever by eating ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious recipes for muffins, breads, etc., on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars serve it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

BESSIE MAE WHITE
Georgia Girl
is a Winner

Every mother realizes how important it is to teach children good habits of conduct but many of them fail to realize the importance of teaching their children good bowel habits until the poisons from decaying waste held too long in the system have begun to affect the child's health.

Watch your child and at the first sign of constipation, give her a little California Fig Syrup. Children love its rich, fruity taste and it quickly drives away those distressing ailments, such as headaches, bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness, feverishness, fretfulness, etc. It gives them a hearty appetite, regulates their stomach and bowels and gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act normally of their own accord. For over fifty years, leading physicians have prescribed it for half-sick, bilious, constipated children. More than a million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it.

Mrs. F. M. White, 661 Brookline St., N. W., Atlanta, says: "My daughter, Bessie Mae, is a prize winner for health, now, but we had a lot of trouble with her before we found her trouble was constipation and began giving her California Fig Syrup. It fixed her up quick, gave her a good appetite, made her sleep fine and she's been gaining in weight right along since the first few days, taking it."

To avoid inferior imitations of California Fig Syrup, always look for the word "California" on the carton.—(adv.)

BEAUTY FASHIONS

A PRACTICAL PLAY GARMENT FOR A SMALL CHILD.

4453. This is an excellent model, comfortable and convenient. The front is gathered below a square yoke. The body portion of the back is buttoned to the waist portion under the belt, which holds the fullness of the front at the waistline. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length with a hand cuff or short above the elbow. Leg bands confine the fullness of the leg portions. Pongee, rep, cotton prints, Peter Pan cloth, madras and cotton broadcloth are suggested for this style. The pattern is cut in three sizes: 1-year, 2 and 3 years. To make the garment for a 2-year size will require 2 yards of 32-inch material. To make collar, belt, sleeve bands and leg bands of contrasting material, will require 3-8 yard, 32 inches wide. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1935 Book of Fashions.

TWO RUM RUNNING
AUTOS CAPTURED;
DRIVERS ESCAPE

Two rum running automobiles fell into the hands of county police Tuesday morning following brief chases. One of the cars was overhauled when the driver, wrecked the machine on Roswell road, and the other was abandoned by the driver on the crest of a hill, the machine backing down into the police car. Officers Stovall, Cates, Lyle, Webb and Patrick participated in the chases. Both of the liquor car drivers escaped, leaving in their machines a total of 241 gallons of corn whiskey.

THREE ARE INDICTED

Lavenia Key Is Charged
With Murder of James.

An indictment returned Tuesday by the Fulton grand jury charged Lavenia Key with the murder of Harrison James with a pistol on March 5. Will Williamson was indicted on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. Williamson is charged with killing Harrison Robinson with an automobile at Shapson and Chestnut streets on December 2, the indictment alleging that Williamson was going at a greater speed than 40 miles an hour, and that he made a short left turn at the intersection.

James Williams, alias Blaney, was indicted on a charge of robbing Otis Banks, of 5 Oil Mill road, Edgewood, of a watch and $5 in cash on March 1.

The Mirror of the Mode

BY MARY MARSHALL

It is a popular idea that little girls' clothes are a great deal easier to make successfully than clothes for grown-ups. To be sure, less material is used and seams are shorter. There is actually less sewing. But I feel convinced that the home dressmaker more often bungles in making little girl clothes than clothes for herself. Making really attractive little girls' frocks

HERRIN RESIDENTS
SIDESTEP BEING
MAYOR OF TOWN

Herrin, Ill., March 12.—(AP)—They sent Herrin's last mayor to prison for two years as a liquor conspirator and now nobody seems to want the job. The city, which obtained an undesirable reputation for lawlessness during the gang and mob reign in "Bloody Williamson" county, today faced the dilemma of holding a mayoralty primary without any candidates for mayor. There were five tickets entitled to participate in the primary, but not a name was filed on any ticket. Besides mayor, a city clerk, treasurer and four aldermen are supposed to be nominated in the primary.

YAP YAP AT HOME.
By Thornton W. Burgess.

Some folk can never be alone; Their worst companionship their own.—Old Mother Nature.

"Who is Yap Yap?" asked Peter Rabbit. Wanderer the Evening Grosbeak looked down for a moment. "Yap Yap," said he, slowly, "is about the same relation to Johnny Chuck as Jack Rabbit is to you. Out where he lives they call him Yap Yap the Prairie Dog. But he isn't a dog at all. He and Johnny Chuck belong to the same family. So he is a sort of small cousin of Johnny Chuck."

"I suppose by that you mean," said Peter, "that he isn't as big as Johnny Chuck?"

"That's just what I mean," replied Wanderer. Peter was getting interested. "Does he look like Johnny Chuck?" he inquired.

"Enough like him so that you would know that he and Johnny Chuck were relatives," said Wanderer.

"Does he sit up like Johnny Chuck?" insisted Peter.

"My goodness, Peter, but you are full of questions!" replied Wanderer. "Yes, he sits up like Johnny Chuck."

THE MEDBURY FORT MURDER

By GEORGE LIMNELLIUS

SYNOPSIS.
Major Hugh Preece, of the Royal Army Medical corps, has just been transferred from Bath to Fort Medbury, which is not far from London. He is about to leave his office one day to take his wife and children for a ride when Lieutenant Lepore is summoned and he has to stay and examine him. The lieutenant is suffering from a mild disorder and the major prescribes for him. After the young officer leaves Major Preece remembers that he has seen him before and recalls the occasion. The visit puts the major in a reminiscent mood. He recalls his first love affair with Prunella Lake, an actress on the London stage, then his being sent to west Africa and his subsequent return from Prunella. On his return to London he again sees Prunella.

INSTALLMENT IX. TWO MARRIAGES.

Prunella was looking white and tired. The rehearsals had been strenuous and the weather was close and thundery. For some time they watched hilarious boatloads descending the water chute. Preece had a peculiar affection for the water chute, since it was connected with one of his earliest childish recollections. He amused Prunella by relating how, with his nurse, he had visited Buffalo Bill's wild west show and then, with much inward trepidation, had demanded to be taken down the water chute (it was the first erected in England) and how his nurse would not come herself, but had handed him over to the care of an attendant.

He had sat beside the man in the front seat and had not let out a single yell, even when the punt hit the water and bounded into the air like a bucking colt, and the attendant had called him a brick and a pocket marvel, and had pinned on his coat the gorgeous blue ticket with the words in gold, "I have shot the chute," and how he was a hero for days and days to all the other little boys and girls who either could not persuade their parents to allow them, or lacked the nerve to "shoot and chute."

"You must have been a sweet little boy, Hugh,"

"Think so? I was in the Little Lord Fauntleroy tradition; flaxen curls, pink and white, chubby, complete with velvet suit and lace collar."

She giggled. "O, I would have loved you."

"Would you like to have children, Prunella?"

"Yes—es. O, yes! After I've had a good time, with a provocative glance. She was suddenly full of animation, vivid, stimulating."

He loved her in this mood; she was so intensely alive; with a zest, an abandon to the moment as it flew, dissolving the clouds of introspection and vague fears, of which Preece was so frequently the victim.

They went on the Grand Canyon river. Floating slowly along the narrow channel, their punt bumping from side to side through the dimly lit caves of painted canvas, he pleaded with her, "Let me give you a child, Prunella."

Unexpectedly she wept. "Don't, don't, Hugh. I'm so worried. I can't..."

When they stepped out of the punt at the garish exit, she was looking strained and pale.

In the taxi, going home, she had lain quietly in his arms; he could feel her heart and the tremors that every now and again shook her slight body.

As he sat then, clasping Prunella closely in his arms, he knew that he had lost his last chance.

"Don't come in," she had whispered.

"I'm so tired, dear Hugh." She had slipped out of his arms and the door had closed behind her.

One day, towards the end of June, they had spent the day on the river at Hampton Court. Suddenly she had raised herself in his arms, drawn his head to her and, with a rare gesture of passion, kissed him.

"We must go now," she whispered. "Only just time to get back to the theater." She had gently freed herself from his embrace. "Hugh," she had continued, "as soon as this show is over, in November, I am going to be married."

"Yes," Preece had returned. "I thought you were." He felt numb. At least the die was cast now; the suspense over. Not that he had ever really hoped to keep her. "Too... expensive for me," he thought bitterly. "...can't stand the pace." "Who is it?" he asked aloud.

She displayed, he observed with a certain very humorous sense of relief at his calm acceptance of her abrupt announcement.

"Trenayne Roman."

"Age..."

"O, quite young, Hugh; and rather serious minded, like you."

The next time he saw her she was wearing a ring of platinum with a large solitary emerald on her third finger. Inevitably he made love to her, and they kissed passionately when they parted. The following day he was suddenly posted for duty at Edinburgh and by the 14th of August he was in France.

For the first six months of the war he had been attached to a very ordinary base hospital. Then he was sent off, hurriedly, to join a field ambulance behind the Marne. In January, he had been badly wounded by a shell splinter and by successive stages he arrived at the Duchess of Gainsborough's beautiful house, by Vauxhall, temporarily a convalescent hospital for officers.

Gainsborough house was the Mecca of every officer who had the good fortune to be wounded. The house and grounds were magnificent; and they did you top-hole. Royalty frequently visited the patients, and the duchess bestowed upon them the benediction of her austere beauty and gracious personality daily. The patients were made to feel they were her guests, her equals, not the recipients of her patronage.

The registrar to the hospital, Preece had discovered, when she had come to take the particulars of his "history" on the morning of his arrival, was Claire Chisholm—sister of the assistant D. C. he had met at Makompe.

Claire was a blonde; dignified, witty, inclined to plumpness; her face showed strength; her eyes, set wide apart, were steady and kind.

Six months later he had married her. In point of fact Claire had made up her sensible mind to marry Hugh long before he asked her.

The marriage had been a success. She had borne him two children, both girls, and his original mild affection had grown steadily to a deep, if not very passionate, attachment for his cheerful and plucky little wife.

From Prunella, now Lady Roman, he had heard no word for many years. Rarely, he noticed her name in the society columns of the Morning Mail, or a snapshot in that monumental piece of illustrated snobbery, The Prattle. Four years ago he had found, one morning, a letter in his well remembered handwriting on his desk at the military hospital in Bath where he was then stationed.

"Dear Hugh (it ran), I have just discovered you are in Bath. I often go down to stay with an old uncle of my husband's—Lord Harrington—at Clifton, and pass through Bath. I am going there next week. Couldn't I stop off for a few hours at Bath? I should so love to see you again and have a chat about old times."

Let me know, please.

Yours,
PRUNELLA.

Mayne Mouse, Wayne, Oxon.

He had been a fool, no doubt; but the thought of seeing Prunella again had thrilled him. He had replied with enthusiasm, suggesting they should meet at Swindon, which was also on her way to Clifton. He was staying there a few days, he had explained, as he was a member of a medical board assembling in that town.

Several months ago The Atlanta Constitution conducted its first MOVIE TEST. Over two dozen beautiful prizes were distributed amidst the tremendous delight and satisfaction of the contestants.

One of the contestants, S. S. Dewson, of Decatur, Ga., won two automobiles—$1,557 Hudson Sedan and a $978 Essex Sedan. IT WAS THE FIRST TIME HE HAD EVER ENTERED ANY CONTEST IN HIS LIFE.

Innumerable requests have been made for another Movietest. Hundreds of readers of The Constitution who merely followed the contest for the fun of the game and without any desire for a prize, have been among the most insistent for another contest.

And here it is. Another Movietest. With bigger and better prizes. AND NO NEED TO PAY, OR COLLECT, ANY MONEY TO WIN.

$687,500
Security Bond & Mortgage Co.
8% Participating Class "A" Stock
Par Value $20.00
With No Par Class "B" Common Stock

Class "A" stock is preferential as to assets up to $22 per share, and as to dividends up to 8%. After Class "B" receives a like amount, both classes participate share and share alike in any additional dividends. Dividends payable March 15th and September 15th.

History: The company began business with a paid-in capital of $200,000 in November, 1925. The total assets December 31, 1928, were $6,395,077.99. The company confines itself exclusively to the purchase of first mortgages on improved real estate in well developed sections of the better type Southern Cities. These mortgages are then guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Maryland Casualty Co., and deposited with the Maryland Trust Company as Trustee, to secure their Collateral Trust First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds. These bonds are marketed by a group of Investment Bankers, thus permitting the company to turn their capital many times, with a very satisfactory interest differential on each turnover.

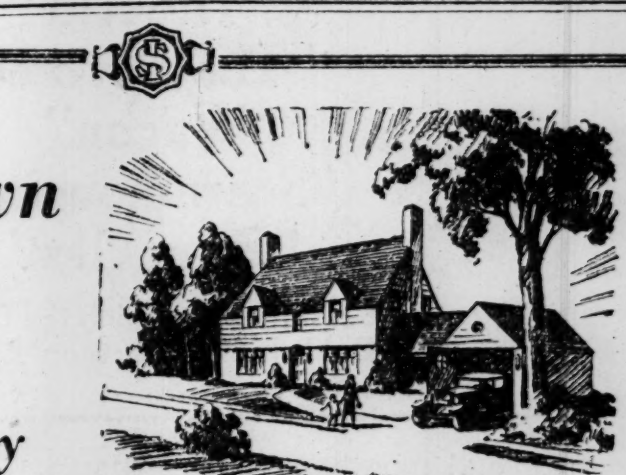

Dividends: The Class "A" Stock is on an established 8% dividend basis, payable semi-annually. Dividends were inaugurated in 1926 and have continued without interruption. With the completion of this financing, it is anticipated that the Class "B" stock will be established on a liberal dividend basis.

Earnings: There was added to earned and deferred income account during the year 1928 the sum of $290,536.48 which, after payment of dividends on Class "A" stock amounting to $26,442.11, leaves a balance of $264,094.37, equal to $12.60 per share on 20,803 shares Class "B" stock outstanding December 31st, 1927, or $11.89 on 22,219 shares outstanding December 31st, 1928.

Price: (2 Shares of Class "A" Stock) $55.00
(1 Share of Class "B" Stock) Per Unit

Application will be made to list this stock on the Baltimore Stock Exchange.

Call Money Rate Drop Aids
Before Heavy Closing Rush

Conspicuous in the day's news was a further mounting of copper prices, the domestic price rising 12 cents to 20 cents a pound, after publication of the February report of the American bureau of metal statistics, showing a sharp drop in the metal on hand. There were several favorable dividend actions, including a jump from $2 to $4 in the annual rate of Western Electric, a rise from $1.60 to $2.00 in Loose-Wiles annual payments and resumption of dividends by Rio Grande Oil.

A few of the volatile issues made sharp gains, Russia Insurance jumping nearly 22 points, and Radio (old) stock mounting 13 1/2 points to 44 1/2, only to fall back to 45 1/2. Reynolds had climbed nearly 13 points. Coppers as a group moved ahead on the higher red metal price, Greene Cananea, Anaconda and Kennecott recording extreme gains of about 3 points. Miami sold at 50 3/4, a new high.

Allied Chemical, American Railways Express, A. M. Myers, Commercial Solvents, Electric Auto Life, Foundation, Montgomery Ward, National Cash Register, and Woodward Elliot Fisher recorded extreme gains of about 3 to 7 points, but some of these were cancelled. U. S. Steel sold up 3 points, but lost most of its gain. American Telephone improved 10 points, the higher Western Electric dividend. Some of the oils improved, Atlantic Refining mounting about 2 points, reflecting reports of a favorable California responding to a favorable earnings report for 1928.

Rails and utilities were included in the day's business. Among steel points were Allis Chalmers, Brooklyn Union Gas, C. C. C. & P., International Paper, Otis Elevator, Southern Railway, and Wright Aero, all of which sold off about 2 to 5 points.

The commodity markets were moved up more than 2 cents a bushel on reports of damage to the winter crop, and cotton closed steadily after a sinking feeling.

The foreign exchanges were largely firm in response to unusually active demand for sterling, the cable rate mounting to a new high of 154 1/2, a dollar, however, fell to a discount of nearly 3/4 cent.
